COUNTY ATTORNEY IN OKLAHOMA PAID WITNESSES STATE

BIG LIQUOR RING ALLEGED TO HAVE OPERATED UNDER PROTECTION

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 4. (AP)—More sensational testimony was brought out today by Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Tidwell, government witnesses, in the trial involving seven Tillman county men facing charges of conspiring to violate the prohibition laws.

After Tidwell, owner of a barn which housed a still alleged to have been operating under "protection," had testified as to an alleged deal in which Jake Bock and Dorsey Parnell, Chickasha, were said to have paid Tidwell $250 for the privilege of setting up the whiskey plant, Mrs. Tidwell stated the still was erected under her protest although she admitted she and her husband "needed the money."

Mrs. Tidwell was put on the stand under protest of defense attorneys who declared the wife of a defendant was not a competent witness. The objection was overruled by Judge Edgar S. Vaught.

Tidwell told of the ultimate raid on the still while he was away from home and his subsequent plea of guilty in connection with liquor charges. He said that Bock and Parnell never were prosecuted.

Mrs. Tidwell said she visited County Attorney P. V. Ruch when the still was raided and protested to him that if her husband was arrested, "the others who owned the still" should receive punishment also. Ruch is a defendant in the trial.

She said their conversation became heated and that Ruch told her he had been insulted by the way she had talked about him. He added, Mrs. Tidwell testified, that she was "hurting him in the

INCOME TAXPAYERS DUE TO PAY LITTLE MORE COMING YEAR

SECRETARY MELLON SEES DEFICIT OF $180,000,000 AT END OF YEAR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—It looks more than ever as though Mr. Taxpayer will have to pay one per cent more on this year's income than on the last.

President Hoover and Secretary Mellon see it that way. The president's opposition to continuance of the one per cent reduction on 1929 incomes went to congress in yesterday's budget message. The secretary of the treasury supported those views today in his annual report. He reported the forecast of a $180,000,000 deficit when the fiscal year ends next June.

While making no recommendation, the Treasury head recalled pointing out a year ago that continuance of the one per cent reduction then made would depend on the revenue prospects this month. These now "indicate that the temporary decrease can not be contirued during the current year."

Contrasting with the deficit forecast, the 1930 fiscal year surplus was $183,789,215. Every bit went toward retirement of the public debt, which stood at $16,185,308,299 when the year closed.

Calculations on the future led to a request for legislation making posible refunding operations. which would aim at putting all or part of the national debt on a lower interest rate basis if money

Tardieu Loses In Senate Vote By Four Votes

PARIS, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The Tardieu government has decided to resign collectively this evening following its defeat in the senate after debate on its internal and financial policies.

The vote followed a bitter discussion on an interpellation of the government's internal and financial policy brought forward by Senator Rene Hery. The senate voted on an order of the day implying mistrust in the government, Premier Tardieu having posed the question of confidence against that procedure.

PARIS, Dec. 4—(AP)—The Tardieu government was defeated in the senate today on a vote of confidence based principally on its internal and financial policies.

The official check disclosed that the government had fallen by four votes. The vote was 149 to 145.

Merchants To Perfect Plans Friday Morning For Holiday Programs

Corsicana merchants had ample opportunity to devise plans and means for presentation at the mass meeting scheduled for the Palace Theatre Friday morning from 10 to 11 o'clock, for none but the hardiest of shoppers ventured out in the continuous downpour Thursday. Residents of the rural sections had no opportunity to visit the city.

17 MORE SHOPPING DAYS TILL XMAS

Sponsors of the meeting, the Retail Trade committee of the Chamber of Commerce and other co-operating agencies, are hoping that every business man in Corsicana will attend the meeting ready to offer suggestions for attracting crowds to Corsicana and generally stimulating business, not only during the holiday season but throughout the remainder of the winter months.

Sydney Marks will preside at the meeting which will include a discussion period, the showing of a short comedy and then a good fellowship hour at which the Royall Coffee company will serve coffee and cakes will be served through the courtesy of the Collin Street Bakery.

Display Gift Goods.

Many merchants took advantage of the rainy day to change their displays of holiday goods in the windows, presenting new ideas, and making other changes whose purpose was to give greater inspiration to the buyers. Considerable activity was also going on inside the various stores in Corsicana as additional touches were being added to the Christmas decorations in place, and even larger stocks of gift goods placed on display.

Other merchants had time to study the present conditions carefully an realize that the next move was up to them. It was recalled that recently a great stock of a certain commodity was sent to Texas for forced sale because a survey of conditions in the entire United States showed that Texas and the market in the southwest was the most faorable in the entire nation.

Additional Inducements.

With this thought in mind, many merchants are preparing to offer additional inducements to the prospectic purchasers in the form of lower and more attractive prices, better service, and more cheerful salesmanship. For the first time in many years, numerous price tags are seen in every window so that the prospect might readily determine whether or not the item would be suitable to his circumstances.

One business man expressed his feelings in this way: "There is no excuse for a merchant's crying hard times at this season of the year. If he expects to do any business, the only thing for him to do is to go to work and throw every possible ounce of business and ability into his merchandising, and go in partners with the public."

NO KNOWN MOTIVE FOUND FOR SLAYING AMARILLO GROCER

AMARILLO, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Investigation failed today to reveal a motive for the brutal slaying last night of Harold McCarrick, 45, Amarillo grocer, who fell in the street near his home before a spray of bullets directed by one of two unknown assailants.

Officers believe McCarrick, regarded as highly respectable, may have been "put on the spot" for some unknown reason. Aside form that belief based upon accounts given by witnesses, and aside from the possibility that the gunmen made a mistake in the identity of their victim, mystery shrouds the killing.

The two men, one short and one tall, who accosted McCarrick as he was on his way home from his store, darted diagonally across the street, and meeting McCarrick one of the men opened fire without warning.

Not a word was spoken, witnesses said. McCarrick was less than five feet away from the two men.

Two Dead, Sixteen Injured in Accidents San Antonio Area

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Two persons are dead and 16 others in hospitals suffering from injuries as a result of accidents here during the last 24 hours.

The dead are Staff Sergeant Harry E. Jones, of Kelly Field, and Rollie Davis, gravel pit worker.

Jones was killed when struck by an automobile on the Kelly Field road last night.

Davis was killed when ten feet of gravel and rocks buried him while he was at work at a gravel pit.

A series of automobile accidents accounted for the injuries to the 16 in hospitals.

Rainfall Here On Thursday Is Heavy

The rainfall for the 24 hour period ending at 7 o'clock Thursday morning was .17 of an inch, according to the government gauge. Wednesday morning the gauge registered .35 of an inch making a total of .52 for the 48 hour period.

Rain fell steadily almost all morning Thursday and will probably bring the total for the last three days to almost two inches. Friday and Saturday 2.21 inches fell, most of which fell about the noon hour Saturday.

Tyler-Greenville Game Postponed

COUNTY JUDGE IS AGAIN INDICTED IN BANK'S CLOSING

OFFICIAL AND FORMER BANKER CHARGED IN ADDITIONAL COUNTS

CONROE, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The Montgomery county grand jury, conducting an investigation started after the Farmers and Merchants Bank closed its doors on Oct. 17, adjourned today after having returned additional indictments against County Judge A. W. Morris and J. M. Griffith, former banker. Both men made bond.

Morris was named on two indictments for embezzlement and Griffith was named on one indictment for false entry, the sheriff's office said.

District Judge S. W. Dean of Huntsville, who received the bills, allowed a change of venue for the trial of Morris. He will be tried in Grimes county on January 5. The other defendants will be tried here.

Morris and Griffith and S. K. Hailey and Leo W. Budde were named in 14 indictments returned by the grand jury last week.

Hailey, former president of the First State Bank, now a part of the Farmers and Merchants Bank, was jointly indicted with Morris on five charges of embezzlement.

Budde, former assistant cashier of the First State Bank, was indicted on a charge of forgery and one of embezzlement.

Griffith was indicted on a charge of burning and secreting certain papers and records of Farmers and Merchants Bank, on three charges of embezzlement and one of making false entry.

The Farmers and Merchants Bank closed Oct. 18, when employes arrived at the institution to find that certain records had been burned.

The state banking commission was notified, and a man from that department and two state rangers came here to investigate.

Budde, Griffith and Morris subsequently were arrested on complaints sworn out by the rangers before a justice of the peace. The indictments grew out of a grand jury investigation of the charges brought by the rangers.

The First State Bank was absorbed by the Farmers and Merchants Bank in September, last year, and Hailey, Morris and Budde had no official connections with the new institution.

Purse of Missing Colorado School Teacher is Found

FORT MORGAN, Colo., Dec. 4.—(AP)—The purse carried by Miss Enid Marriott, missing school teacher, was found in an irrigation ditch near here, Sheriff Rufus A. Johnson announced today.

The purse, which was empty, was discovered seven miles from the point at which her hat bag was found last week in the main canal of the Bijou irrigation ditch. It was identified by relatives of the missing woman.

Sheriff Johnson said the find increased his hopes of locating the body of Miss Marriott, who disappeared the night of Nov. 16, at Wiggins, Colorado.

BOMBS AND EXPLOSIVES ARE SEIZED IN LISBON; REVOLT BELIEVED TO BE THWARTED

LISBON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Police announced today that a large quantity of bombs and explosives had been seized in various parts of the city, and a revolutionary movement, in which it was planned to blow up public buildings, thwarted.

A mysterious taxicab gave the police their first hint of the plot. The cab was stopped and found to contain a cargo of bombs, destined for one of the depots of the revolutionaries.

The driver confessed participation in the conspiracy and implicated Sergeant Joaquin Feliciano Freire. When arrested, Freire implicated others, all of whom were arrested except two lieutenants, Manuel Correia and Pio, both of whom escaped. Police searched the homes of the conspirators and seized more than 600 bombs.

Among those arrested were a captain of infantry, his name undivulged, two seargeants, and 20 civilians. One of those arrested, Maia Monteiro, who denounced his friend, Lieutenant Pio, eluded the attention of his guards and jumped from a window. He landed hard and suffered grave contusions about the head.

The bombs were said by police to have been manufactured in Lisbon from dynamite and other explosives supplied by the foreman of the pyrotechnic works, Augusto Souza, who was arrested. The plotters already were distributing their bombs to extremist parties in taxicabs and motor trucks, three of which, fully loaded, fell into the hands of police.

Further investigation of the plot, it was disclosed, revealed that the Republican Democratic party opened subscriptions ostensibly to aid the families of political deportees, but in reality to obtain funds to finance a coup d'etat against the dictatorship.

The appeal for funds was signed by the party directorate, of the chiefs of which, former Senator Silva Barreto, managed to escape when told that the conspiracy had been discovered.

Einstein Getting Desired Privacy

S. S. BELGENLAND, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Prof. Albert Einstein, on the way to the United States, is getting on this ship some of the privacy which he missed during the days immediately preceding his departure. Today he had a long talk about antisemitism with a representative of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency, but for the rest of the day he was left by himself.

Even in the main dining room the passengers respect his request that he be left alone. He spends most of his time at work in his cabin with a member of the crew guarding his door.

GEORGE C. BUTTE BE VICE GOVERNOR FOR PHILIPPINES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—President Hoover today nominated George Charles Butte of Austin, Texas to be vice governor of the Philippine Islands.

Butte has been special assistant to the attorney general since 1928.

He was a republican candidate for governor of Texas in 1924, and in 1925 was appointed attorney general of Porto Rico. He was acting governor of Porto Rico three times during 1927 and 1927.

The new vice-governor was a professor of law at the University of Texas from 1914 until 1924. He organized the oil and gas conservation department of the state of Texas and assisted in drafting the public utilities law of that state. He served in the army during the war.

ARMED MEN ENTER INSANE HOSPITAL AND RELEASE SIX

GUARDS ARE SURPRISED; INVADERS LED BY FORMER INMATE

BEACON, N. Y., Dec. 4. (AP)—Three men, armed with guns invaded Mattaewan state hospital for the criminal insane early today, overpowered four employees and liberated six inmates.

The leader of the gang was recognized as a former inmate by hospital attendants who said he was William Nelson of New York.

The six liberated were:

Harry Gordon, 38, Rochester.

Frank Danberkeylen, 31, New York.

Joseph Kaylor, 35, The Bronx.

John S. Bangill, 22, New York.

Anthony A. Elloy, 44, Brooklyn.

John Biggin, 30, Brooklyn.

Dr. Raymond F. C. Keib, superintendent, said the three men entered the hospital grounds through the rear yard where they encountered Patrick McGrath, night watchman, and compelled him to accompany them.

Surprise Guards.

In the kitchen they came upon Clifford Cooper, night cook, forcing him to join them. They continued through the building toward the front where they picked up Joseph Brown, the roundsman. Then they herded their prisoners into the front office where Samuel Kane, night office man, was on duty.

While one of them guarded their prisoners the other two went to the front dormitory where the six men were in bed. The six apparently were watching for them, Dr. Kieb said, for as soon as the intruders appeared they sprang from their cots and ran out, two of them left clad in night attire. They drove away in two automobiles.

Dr. Kieb said the escape would not have been possible had it not been for Nelson's knowledge of the hospital routine. He knew where to find the employees and

Beautiful Light, Preserved By Freezing at 312 Degrees Below Zero, Scientific Fact

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor).

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(AP)—A beautiful form of light, preserved by freezing it at 312 degrees below zero, was exhibited to the New York Merchants' Association today.

Almost equally amazing was the sight of corn popping between two jars of ice water, its bursting due to radio waves that heated the heart of the kernels while the air about them was chilled.

The light was frozen at Schenectady, N. Y., yesterday, brought here in a bottle of liquid air at 312 degrees below zero and thawed out for exhibition by L. A. Hawkins, executive engineer, and E. L. Manning, physicist, of the General Electric Company.

At Schenectady the light was produced first by exposing a screen made of various ordinary minerals to the powerful emanations of the recently perfected cathrode ray tube.

After such exposure, the minerals on the screen glow for some time as if red hot, although they remain stone cold. They sparkle in all colors. The explanation is that the Cathcode emanations, when they strike the extremely minute particles of the minerals, excite them into extra-rapid vibration. This movement is visible as light and lasts until the extra vibration ceases.

That is not very long, but the scientists found if the glowing substances are frozen in liquid air the vibration is slowed so greatly that the light is quenched.

Yet the frozen particles retain their extra energy, and when warmed up spring back into the rapid vibration that becomes light again.

The jars of water beside the popping corn contained, in addition to cubes of ice, a solution which made them electrical conductors, so that they were electrodes for short radio waves passing between them and through the corn.

The popping suggests interesting possibilities for control of cooking. Mr. Hawkins points out that not a charred kernel appears in such corn, although the kernels are hot. The popping requires about two minutes.

The corn apparatus is an adaptation of the radio fever tube which the General Electric Company announced less than a year ago. This tube produces artifical fever in human beings and animals and a number of tubes have been placed in various medical research institutions for experiment.

"The artifical fever treatment," said Mr. Hawkins, "has been used with striking success on a wide variety of ailments in man and animals, but it is being left to the doctors to report the results."

TWENTY ARE KNOWN BE DEAD AS RESULT BURMA EARTHQUAKES

RANGOON, Burma, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Twenty-two persons are known to have been killed and a number of others injured in two earthquakes which rocked Burma during the night. There was much material damage, the Pyu district particularly suffering.

The first shocks, a mild tremor, was felt at Rangoon at 10.20 p. m., the second at 1.20 a. m., was much more intense, and lasted much longer. A district 150 miles north of Rangoon appeared hardest hit.

Buildings in Pyu were reported afire today with a number already destroyed and others, including the courthouse, badly damaged. Several miles of railway line and a number of bridges were badly damaged and a score of persons are homeless.

The Mandalay Rangoon mail train should have been in the area where the epicenter of the shock was located and fear for its safety is felt.

Several of rail and telegraph communications is delaying accurate information of the scope of the damage. An unconfirmed report says there was considerable loss at Toungoo.

REGGIO DI CALABRIA, Italy, Dec. 4.—(AP)—An earth shock rattled the houses here at about noon today, putting the inhabitants to flight, but causing little damage.

Dynamite Explosion Kills Thirty-Six in Rio Late Wednesday

RIO DE JANIERO, Dec. 4. (AP)—A dynamite-filled box car on a siding at Porto Novo Da Cunha, in the state of Minas Geraes, exploded yesterday killing 36 persons and wrecking three buildings.

Cause of the explosion was unknown. The car was bcked on the siding during the recent revolution but no one in the city appeared to know of the presence of the explosives.

Among those killed were Major Manuel Lerac, revolutionist commander of this sector during the revolution and his wife and three children.

Wonders of New and Powerful X-Ray Machines Are Unfolded Before Scientists Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Wonders of new and powerful X-ray machines whose potentialities are unfathomed even by their creators are being unfolded here before scientists attending the convention of the Radiological Society of North America.

The greatness of these machines—an X-ray tube of 650,000 volts, said to produce more than 50 times as much power as all the radium known to exist—was exhibited before the scientists last night by Dr. Robert A. Millikan, noted physicist.

The tube produces rays approximating in length those of the penetrating Gamma ray of radium, and hence, in some respects is capable of doing the work now done by the $5,000,000,000 worth of radium which the world thus far has yielded.

Dr. Millikan and Dr. C. C. Lauritson, both of California Institute of Technology, developed the big tube. Its potentialities in the fields of medicine, physics and engineering, the scientist said, were undetermined and might require years for discovery.

Development of the tube, Dr. Millikan said, opened three principal fields of research—a physical study of the properties of the Gamma ray, research into the nature of metals and other opaque substances, and the study of the X-ray's effect upon plant and animal tissue.

The latter field, he said, would determine whether the big tube would produce rays containing the curative properties of the ordinary X-ray and of radium, and whether it could be used in the treatment of cancer and other diseases. Dr. Millikan stated the tube might be useful to engineers in determining whether masses of metals contain inhomogeneities.

To Raise Funds For Flood Control Over Red River

SHERMAN, Dec. 4.—(AP)—To further promote Red river flood control and navigation, representatives of Oklahoma and Texas towns attending a meeting here yesterday voted to raise a budget of $15,000.

J. B. Middleton of Greenville, regional vice president of the East Texas chamber of commerce, presided. Speakers referred to the project as vital to development of the territory involved and said it was quite as important as others now before congress and giving promise of fulfillment.

COMMUNISTS ARE ACTIVE THURSDAY ALL OVER GERMANY

BERLIN, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Communist disorders in various parts of Germany which already have resulted in two deaths, were in full swing in Berlin this afternoon in continuation of unemployment demonstrations.

A tremedous chorus of "we want work and break," and "we are starving" was heard at a demonstration of unemployed at Busch circus, held under auspices of the communist party.

The demonstrators afterwards marched towards the northeastern working class suburbs refusing to dissolve at the summons of the police who had their hands full in subduing the turbulent crowd.

Rocks were thrown at the police who wielded their clubs vigorously and fired in the air to keep their assailants at bay.

Shopkeepers along the route of the march hurriedly lowered their shutters but a number of vegetable market stalls were plundered.

Some of the rioters stopped to give battle as the police drove the mob through the streets but only ten of them were arrested.

At police headquarters the prisoners were herded together for questioning while reinforcements went out to prevent the disorders from spreading.

Arguments Opened In Trial Timpson Man on Thursday

LUFKIN, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Argument of counsel was begun here today in the trial of Earl Prince, 21-year-old Timpson man, for the slaying of his young bride while riding on the highway near here Nov. 14.

The defense introduced testimony in an attempt to prove that Prince's mind was unbalanced as a result of injuries in an automobile wreck five years ago.

Rebuttal witnesses testified they had never noticed any peculiarties about Prince.

conditions justify. Mellon asked that the loan law be amended with the object of granting the Treasury "complete freedom in determining the character of securities to be issued" in any refunding, and to allow eight billion dollars in new bond issues to be put out as a refunding operation, which would retire like amounts of older debt.

Further, his report repeated a recommendation that Congress free income taxpayers who buy federal securities from liability for the payment of income tax on the realization from such investments. That would give national paper the some exemption status as that now held by state and municipal borrowings.

Expect Cash Payment.

The secretary foresaw some changes in the form of payment hitherto received from foreign governments by the United States as a result of war loans, saying:

"It is reasonably certain that the December interest payments on account of foreign debts will be paid in cash, and it is quite posisble that this may be equally true in June. It is impossible for forecast what method of payment foreign debtors may elect, though it is entirely possible that part of the interest payments will be made in securities."

If the deficit materializes, it will be the first time a surplus has been missed since 1919. Mellon looks to 1932 to bring back a favorable balance, to the extent of $30,600,000. The estimates set the income tax revenue then at $2,269,000,000 or $70,000,000 more than expected this year.

Expect Better Busines.

As another evidence of expecting better business in the year starting next July first, the Treasury Secretary estimated customs receipts for that time ould be $110,000,000 greater than the $502,000,000 expected this year. The latter estimate represents a drop of $85,000,000 under the 1930 figure. Miscellaneous taxes are expected to bring $623,000,000 this year and to increase by $53,-000,000 in the next.

The estimate that $3,834,865,243 ould be collected by the government this year as $400,000,000 smaller than the estimate submitted to Congress a year ago.

"The earlier estimate did not take into consideration the one per cent income tax reduction and was made at a time when it was impossible to apraise the severity of the business depression then in its early stages," Mellon said. "Reduction in that estimate was made necessary by subsequent developments in industry and commerce, as well as in the security market, which indicated that both corporation and individual incomes would be smaller than had been anticipated; and by the effect of such developments on the volume of foreign trade and the customs recepits. Exclusive of the $80,000,000 tax reduction item, the princi- pay reduction in estimated receipts are as follows: income tax $190,000,000 and custims $100,000,000."

Lawmakers Planning Some Speedy Action

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Congress had its mind set on some quick action today, hopeful of a breathing spell to digest the pile of proposals before it.

The senate was expectant of passing the bus-regulation bill by evening with a possibility of adjourning immediately till Monday. The house, with a bulkier task in hand, expected to debate the billion dollar treasury-post office appropriation until Friday, passing it in night session if need be to obtain a free week-end. More supply bills will be ready next week.

On top of the annual message submitted Tuesday, President Hoover had sent up the budget message, containing warnings of fiscal stringency. The flood of bills introduced had mounted higher and needed sorting. Nominations for high office and low, some two hundred in all, clamored for senate attention.

A new discordant note developed over proposals for aiding farmers of drought-afflicted states. Democrats in both chambers, with implied republican support, had introduced measures to make $60,000,000 available for seed and fertilizer loans when the department of agriculture recommended a $25,000,000 figure. Administration leaders took up the latter immediately, with the opponents holding out for the bigger sum. The house agriculture committee was preparing its recommendations.

Explanation Promised

Democratic criticism of President Hoover's plan for cabinet administration of $100,000,000 or more in unemployment appropriations continued, but met with assurance that a detailed explanation of where and how it would be forthcoming. From outside the legislative halls came a democratic assertion that everyone "must applaud" the Hoover recommendations for relief. This was issued by Jouett Shouse, chairman of the party's executive committee.

The bulky sheaf of presidential nominations were referred without debate to various senate committees, most of them facing an unobstructed passage. William N. Doak, chosen labor secretary appeared likely to weather senate consideration easily. Even the American federation of labor which had opposed him before appointment, said it would sanction no effort to have him barred.

Closer scrutiny, however, is awaiting the appointees to both tariff and power commissions. Yet no definite opposition to any of the eleven men on the two groups had been announced.

New Federal Prison.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Negotiations are under way for location of the new federal penitentiary for the west at El Reno Oklahoma.

Sanford Bates, director of federal prisons, said today property of 1,000 acres owned by the government there are involved in the negotiations. The El Reno site is the only one being considered. The prison would cost $3,000,000.

Committee Vacancies Filled.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The republican committee on committees of the senate today filled vacancies on various standing committees for the short session.

Senator Morrow, New Jersey, was assigned to the military, post office, public buildings, education and printing committees.

Senator Davis of Pennsylvania, was assigned to naval affairs, banking, civil service, manufacturers and inter-oceanic canals committees.

Senator Carey of Wyoming was assigned to the banking, District of Columbia, civil service, military and irrigation committees.

Robinson Endorsed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Endorsement of the senate Democratic leadership of Senator Robinson of Arkansas was given in the senate today by two members of the party's steering committee, Sheppard of Texas and Harris of Georgia, in replying to published reports of party discord.

Contests May Come.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The senate finance committee decided today to examine all six members of the new tariff commission Saturday.

Possible contests have involved the names of Henry P. Fletcher of Pennsylvania, Republican, chairman; Edgar B. Brossard, Republican, Utah, and Alfred P. Dennis, Democrat, Maryland.

The other three members are Thomas W. Page, Democrat, Virginia; and John L. Coulter, Republican, North Dakota and Lincoln Dixon, Democrat, Indiana. All six were given recess appointments. Their nominations were sent to the senate yesterday.

Senator Harrison of Mississippi, a Democratic member of the committee, announced yesterday a thorough investigation of the fitness of Fletcher and Brossard would be conducted. Some Republican members also want to question Dennis.

Scrutinizing Nominees.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Close scrutiny of the members chosen by President Hoover for the new power commission was assured today with qualifications of one, Frank R. McNinch of North Carolina, already under investigation.

Senator Overman, Democrat, North Carolina, was seeking to determine if McNinch is a Democrat. The senator said he understood the nominee supported Mr. Hoover in the 1928 campaign.

"I favor Mr. McNinch, if he is a Democrat," said Overman.

"I also want to make certain Mr. McNinch and other appointees have no connection with the power trust." Chairman Couzens of the interstate commerce committee intends to call an early meeting for consideration of the five nominees.

Doak Is Favored.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—A poll of the senate labor committee today showed it unanimously favored confirming the nomination of Wm. N. Doak, of Virginia, as secretary of labor and leaders intended to seek confirmation later in the day.

Radio Fans Are Determined Booze Ager Must Leave

SUSANVILLE, Cal., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Annoyed by interference allegedly coming from an electrically operated whiskey aging machine, radio fans inserted the following advertisement this week in the Lassen Advocate:

"There is one bootlegger in Susanville who is known to this committee and who has a whiskey aging machine. This machine is a nuisance to radio enthusiasts of Susanville, and unless this bootlegger, who is known, removes his machine from Susanville, warrants will be sworn to for his arrest for violation of the prohibition law and for iolation of the city ordinance covering radio disturbance.

INDIANS GATHER ARIZONA VILLAGE FOR RITALISTIC RITES AND FEASTING DAYS

MISSION SAN XAVIER, Ariz., Dec. 4.—(AP)—The elder brother of the Coyotes who, the ancient Papagos, believed, created the world and led the Red men into it, reigned again today as Indians of Arizona's hills and deserts enacted their pantomimic rituals in honor of St. Francis Xavier.

Papagos and Yaquis of all the small and scattered rancherias of which St. Xavier Mission is the spiritual center, were here for three days of ceremonial feasting.

The age-old beliefs and rituals still live in legendary form in odd admixture with the present day professed beliefs of the San Xavier Indians, who bow their heads in prayer under leadership of their padres before making their time-worn invocations to the venerable coyote.

Bishop Daniel J. Gercke of the Catholic diocese of Tucson, celebrated pontifical mass to open the three-day ceremonial yesterday. The rituals reverted to the ancient faiths last night.

Even Harry Encinas, a leader of the Papago people, who does not condone too much feasting and dancing when there is work to be done, joined in the historic festivities as leader of the San Xavier choir.

Encinas, while not begrudging the honor paid the Mission's patron saint, feels his people generally are too much given to celebration and not enough to the hard work which might justify Thanksgiving.

Mission San Xavier was established, in the name of the saint who ministered in China and Japan and was the first Jesuit to visit the Philippines, by Father Eusebio Kino before the old pueblo of Tucson or Tuquison came into being. Its adobe walls are crumbling, but the bells in its ancient tower still chime the message of "The White Dove of the Desert."

election" and that she must quit talking so much.

"I answered that if that was the kind of men we had in office we didn't need them," the witness told the jury.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 3.—(AP)—P. V. Ruch, Tillman county attorney, was involved further as the purported recipient of protection money from bootleggers in testimony today at the federal court trial of seven Tilmman county men indicted for conspiracy against the dry laws.

J. A. Spivey, elderly justice of the peace at Waurika, testified he had seen his son-in-law, Bud Walls, former Tillman county deputy sheriff, pay much money Walls had collected from bootleggers.

Spivey said his acquaintance with Walls, which preceded the relationship by marriage, was fostered within the walls of the Oklahoma penitentiary at McAlester, where Spivey was serving a sentence for embezzlement of funds of Jefferson county, where he had been court clerk.

Walls, confessed fixer and payoff man, had served sentences for forgery and jail breaking and other offenses.

Spivey said he had counselled his son-in-law he was doing wrong in collecting from bootleggers.

The defendants are accused of operating a whiskey distributing establishment that spread its activities throught Oklahoma, Texas and Missouri. Ruch is the only official involved who did not plead guilty. Sheriff C. A. Wages, Walls and Robert S. Rogers, constable, have thrown themselves on the mercy of the court.

Holmes Tidwell, tenant farmer in whose barn the still alleged to have been operated by Jake Bock, Dorsey Parnell and Gordon Hays, all defendants in the present trial, was located, told of setting up the still in the barn after Bock, Parnell and Frank Muse had visited him, the former paying, he said, $250 for the privilege.

Tidwell said while the still was in operating Bock, Parnell, Muse Hays, a stranger known as Dad, and two negroes spent much time on the premises and that Dad was the whiskey maker. He said an auto came to the barn nightly and carried off liquor.

Tidwell finally was arrested and pleaded guilty to liquor charges which he said he understood would be modified to charge him merely with knowledge of the still's operations. He served a jail sentence under the charges, although Bock had intimated the operators were protected by county authorities.

He said that when he asked Bock whether the still was protected, the latter told him "we'd be crazy to build a plant like this without protection."

Witness said he was away from home at the time the still was raided and that neither Bock or the other men were prosecuted.

The bronzed man of the soil wept when defense attorneys brought out under cross-examination that his mother had died shortly after his arrest, and that his wife became ill at about the same time after she had been warned to leave the farm and visit relatives in Frederick.

Defense attorneys attempted to show that Tidwell might have been mistaken about the identity of the men who set up the still on his place and inferred that federal operatives coached him at the time of the grand jury investigation. The witness was able, however, to point out the defendants he accused.

Mrs. Tidwell followed her husband on the stand.

MRS. Cora Moshier, of 601 North New Orleans Ave., Brinkley, Ark., writes:

"I was so constipated until I was just sick. I could not stand to take strong medicine, so I decided I would take Black-Draught, and I found it to be all right.

"I would have such dizzy spells, and such bursting headaches, until I could hardly go. But after taking a few doses of Black-Draught I would feel just fine. It is a good medicine, and I recommend it to all who suffer as I did. It is very easy to recommend a medicine that has done as much for me as Black-Draught has done."

CORSICANA, TEX., DEC. 5, 1930.

PHYSICAL IMPAIRMENTS AND OCCUPATIONAL CLASSES.

The United States Public Health Service recently published the report of a study of the relation of physical impairments and broad occupational classes, based upon the medical examinations of more than 100,000 native born adult white males, conducted by 9,000 different physicians in all parts of the country.

Although the association of economic or social status and health has been given detailed consideration in the past, the studies have related to sickness or death. Up to the present time this picture has been inadequate because it has not included information as to the physical conditions of persons able to be about and at work—that is, when the condition which lead to sickness and possible death are in their incipiency. The purpose of this investigation was to determine whether the same relationships would be found in physical condition as measured by the periodic health examination.

The groups used for the comparison were (a) agricultural; (b) professional; (c) business; and (d) skilled trade. It should be pointed out that the age distribution of these four groups was practically identical, so that the rates of impairments for all ages could be used rather generally in the comparison.

Since the examinations were of persons who had carried life insurance and had accepted the offer of insurance companies for free health examination, it would be expected that the lower levels would not be adequately represented, and therefore, that the differences found would be a minimum expression of the relationship.

In spite of this fact, the general impression left by the various comparisons was a definitely higher rate, on the average, in the skilled trade group. The make-up of this group is of some interest. Of the 16,714 persons analyzed, 3,409 were classified as machinists; 1,985, carpenters; 1,577, tailors; 1,256, printers; 1,235, electricians; 998, plumbers; 836, chauffeurs; 834, barbers; 829 painters; 712 butchers; and 3043 others. These are groups of persons where we would normally expect a somewhat higher rate of mortality than among professional persons. It is a point of great interest that the same tendency can be shown to exist in records of physical examinations. The skilled trade group stands out distinctly from the others considered. Its rates of impairments are excessively high for eye and ear conditions, teeth defects, heart and pulse, and many miscellaneous impairments. Possibly the only condition which showed a significantly low rate for the skilled trade group was that of corrected defective vision, a reflection of less care of the eyes.

For most conditions, the agricultural group would seem to have rates definitely below the average for all examined, but there are important exceptions, notably for teeth, stomach, and abdominal conditions, and the genito-urinary system. The rates are low for diseases of eye and ear, nose and throat, heart and pulse, blood vessels, and many miscellaneous conditions.

The professional group conforms more nearly to the average for the entire population considered. Few conditions are found to have excessive rates, but, on the other hand, there are not very many with particularly low rates.

The business group approximates the average for the entire population considered in nearly every respect. A study of three subdivisions of this group (namely, executives, mechants, builders, etc.; salesman; clerks, including clerks in stores) brought out the same tendencies as in the group as a whole. There were no significant differences, once allowance had been made for natural differences in age in these three subdivisions.

Generally speaking the characteristic age curves of specific impairments were reflected in the four broad occupational groups.

The study is one of a series being made in co-operation with the Milbank Memorial Fund, based on medical examinations conducted by the Life Extension Institute.

JUST FOLKS

THE LONG LAST LAP.

The distance runner jogged along
At fixed and steady pace
He stayed unnoticed by the throng
In sixth or seventh place.

One faltered when the mile was done.
Twoo swift a pace he'd made.
The cheers which are too quickly won
As suddenly may fade.

A brilliant rival passed him by
At half the struggle's length,
To match him there 'twas vain to try.
Instead he saved his strength.

Fifth place, to fourth place, then to third
He moved at even gait.
Though cries for greater speed he heard,
He calmly chose to wait.

But when the last long lap began
With mighty speed and power
He passed his rivals to a man—
The hero of the hour.

Some burn their strength for early cheers,
So make a brilliant start,
But when that last long lap appears
As failures they depart.

Some quickly squander all they gain,
Some thing their strength will hold,
And some forget that grief and pain
Must follow when they're old.

Not now is victory written down,
Not now is glory won.
Who would make sure of earth's renown
Life's long last lap must run.

TREES IN THE CITY.

A small boy looks on a tree as a challenge to his anthropoid inheritance and the endurance of his trousers or as a standing invitation to build therein a tree house at the risk of his young neck. A tree surgeon estimates it in terms of cavities and arboreal diseases. A lumberman measures the giant monarch of the forest in board feet. The landscape architect considers the tree in relation to its surroundings.

But plain people who must live and work in congested communities need to do greater honor to the friendly tree and regard it, care for it and preserve it for its infinate capacity for making community life bearable. There must be trees in the city, if the air is to be pure and sweet, summer nights cool and streets and gardens beautiful to gaze upon.

Let the lumbermen have their way with timber lands that lie far from crowded towns, but let them spare that tree which has grown old and lovely at the city's back door. No trifling profit that can be cut out of its heart in a sawmill can compensate for the spiritual loss of its company.

Cities and towns whose streets are still arched with healthy living trees and whose homes are set in tree-studded lawns can benefit from the experience of those communities which found trees in the way and ruthlessly leveled them only to discover that trees contribute much toward making city life comfortable and pleasant. Many cities which discovered the worth of the tree too late are now planting new shade trees along their thoroughfares at great cost.

INDIVIDUALITY.

There are two sides to every question, and the manner in which high school girls dress is no exception to that general rule. If, as some complain, the matter of competition in dress has become so serious as to call for drastic action, it might be that a uniform dress regulation would provide the simplest remedy. If, on the other hand, high school girls are, as a general thing, simple, unaffected and unspoiled, as most people believe them to be, there can be no excuse for attempting to submerge their individuality in uniformity.

The jazz age is passing. If parents can be induced to abandon the jazz life there will be no trouble with the young. Observation shows that the era of flapperdom that followed the war has nearly run its course and that the tendency is toward a return to decorum and sensible dress.

It may be that some girls overdress and make unhappy those who cannot afford a large and costly wardrobe. But inspection of a typical group reveals that the representative high school girl is sensible in her attire. And, after all, the girl with the plain dress doesn't envy the other girl's costlier garment so much as the more fortunate circumstances which put that garment within her reach.

The argument that a few girls without material means are made unhappy by the prettier dresses of their classmates is unconvincing. What will the unifrom-dress advocate do for the girl in silks and satin who is unhappy because the poor girl has a higher scholastic standing or is more attractive in her simple frock than she is in her exclusive model? It would be a pity if natural individuality were to be destroyed by deadening standardization.

MULTIPLYING WEALTH.

Before 1930 abdicates in favor of 1931 life insurance in force in the United States will have reached the staggering volume of $100,000,000,000, according to a survey just prepared. This vast total is eloquent of American forethought for old age and dependence. It also shows that our prosperity is not being entirely consumed in the enjoyment of the so-called material things.

Fifteen years ago the total amount of life insurance in force in the United States was $20,500,000,000, which then appeared to be tremendous total. Within sixteen years, if present estimates hold, the people will have multiplied their investment in this direction five times.

But this is not the only direction in which the American people are showing their thrift, providence and prosperity.

Savings deposits have risen this year to the staggering total of $28,400,000,000. The increase over 1929 was $2,300,000,000 which bankers say is the greatest gain in savings in any twelve months on record.

The fact that savings deposits increased this year in forty-five of the forty-eight states indicates the most widespread prosperity since the depression of 1920. And the three states showing a decrease may have merely switched their savings into other investments, making it appear on the surface that they had less money to save, whereas they may have had more.

A nation whose savings have increased 169.3 per cent in sixteen years and 113.5 per cent in ten years has little to fear economically.

FOREIGN INVESTMENTS.

Grumblings are again heard about the "huge American investments" in Europe and the possibility that they may constitute a dangerous political and economic menace. Little or nothing is heard about the large foreign investments in the United States, and there is no apparent disposition to regard them as a menace.

There is so little difference between our investments abroad and foreign investments here that Europe's fears are a bit difficult to understand. As a better understanding of the true situation develops, less attention will be paid to protests against the faring abroad of American dollars.

As a matter of fact, these foreign holdings in the United States represent a part of the share which other nations have in American prosperity. It has often been pointed out that American prosperity contributes to the prosperity of the rest of the world. For the same reason Europe loses when business depression inflicts losses here.

Europeans who have billions invested in American enterprise are doing nothing at home to hurt business on this side of the Atlantic. On the contrary, they will aid us in our recovery of economic stability, knowing that it means dollars in their pockets and dollars to aid business at home.

DEFORESTATION.

America must expect a timber famine before many years unless it soon heeds the annual warnings of the United States forest service as to the depletion of the standing timber. The problem is approaching a crisis. Conservation and reforestation are urgently needed. Yet nothing is done about it.

Last year we cut 10,000,000 acres of timber and planted 110,000 acres. Seventy-five per cent of the 25,000,000,000 cubic feet of lumber taken from the country's forests each year is a direct and unreplaced drain upon our dwindling forest resources.

An actual timber shortage exists in the United States. Our consumption of lumber is four times our production and half of the world output. Each year finds us more dependent upon foreign forest products and each year brings those foreign resources nearer exhaustion.

At the present rate of reforestation it would require 2,000 years to reclaim the denuded areas, if further exploitation of the forests were stopped now. And every year we put off reforestation the more difficult the task becomes, due to the washing away of the rich soil left unprotected by forest foliage.

Current high prices of lumber, the prospects of timber and water famines and flood control make it mandatory upon congress and the state legislatures to put every available dollar and acre of potential forest land to work producing forests and wealth.

AVIATRIX MAKES BAHAMAS SAFELY IN HEAVY GALE

WOMAN FLYER BELIEVED DEAD FOUND ALIVE, PLANE UNINJURED

NASSAHU, Bahamas, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller, Australian aviatrix, for whom a widespread search was made after she failed to arrive in Miami, Fla., Friday on a flight from Havana, today told of being forced down on a remote link in the Bahamas Isalnd chain by adverse weather, which she said tossed her far off her projected course.

She said compass failure and gasoline shortage also were contributing causes to her descent on Andros Island Friday. Andros Island is approximately 125 miles south by east of Miami and search was not made in that vicinity because aviators, recalling a 30-mile east wind Friday, had expressed belief that her reconditioned plane would be blown westward.

Mrs. Keith Miller, whose "Bullet" was without radio, bank and turn dials, or equipment for blind flying, said she ran into a heavy gale soon after leaving Havana and came down in the bush, five miles back of Kemps Bay, Andros Island. Her plane, she said, was undamaged and she was uninjured.

The aviatrix said she walked to Kemps Bay and was given pawpaws, a tropical fruit, and shelter by an aged negress, who lived alone with a child.

Commissioner Forsyth at Andros Island, she continued, helped her obtain a small boat to bring her to Nassau yesterday to dispatch messages to her mother in New York and to friends.

She said she planned to return to Andros Island today and fly her plane to Miami. She radioed to Miami for gasoline.'

Mrs. Keith-Miller, wife of a Sydney newspaperman, and holder of a transcontinental woman's flight record, was returning to Pittsburgh from Havana after a two-stop flight from the Pennsylvania city to Cuba.

Relief Expedition Starts

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 2.—(AP)—Captain W. N. Lancaster, British flier, today headed an aerial expedition to the assistance of Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller, Australian flier, who arrived at Nassau yesterday to tell of a forced landing on an Andros island, far out of her course, as she attempted to fly from Havana to Miami Friday.

Captain Lancaster arrived here yesterday in a plane furnished by the navy department in Washington to assist in searching for the flier.

He chartered a plane from Miami to Andros Island, planning to take fuel and a mechanic to examine Mrs. Keith-Miller's "Bullet."

From Andros, Lancaster said he expected to go to Nassau for Mrs. Keith-Miller, thence returning to Andros Island for her plane. He said she planned to fly the plane to Miami but he would attempt to dissuade her.

Mother Awaits Return

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The courageous mother of a flying daughter today awaited her return from the Bahamas.

Mrs. E. M. L. Beveridge, mother of Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller, ended a solitary four-day vigil last night when she received this message:

"Safe. Notify friends. Love. Jessie."

With trembling hands and wet eyes, Mrs. Beveridge sent the following cablegram:

"Delighted to hear of your safety. Come back soon."

Mrs. Beveridge, widow of a Melbourne banker, said she expected her daughter would start for New York at once and then go to Pittsburgh, where her adventure started on Nov. 22.

"I couldn't believe that Chubbie would be lost in such a short flight," said Mrs. Beveridge.

Woman Flyer Tells Of Her Experience

HAVANA, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller, forced down in the Bahamas during a flight from Havana to New York, today gave the Associated Press the first story of her adventurous experience.

"A terrific gale blew me off my course somewhere between Havana and the mainland," she said. "Then my compass went haywire and I flew seven hours looking for a place to land.

"The gas began to run low and I got panicky. I didn't know whether I was in the Gulf of Mexico or somewhere over the Atlantic. It was a fearful relief when I did see a spot of land. I thought it was Florida.

"But it was this village called Kemps Bay on Andros Island. There was a terrific wind, but I came in with full motor, then stalled her and pancaked into the thick bushes. I looked the ship over and it was O. K.

"I started out to walk and it was sixteen miles to the first telegraph station I came to. I walked all night over the rockiest beach I ever saw. My feet were blistered and I was mighty tired. I am sorry I can't send you more."

That last reference was to the telegram by which this interview was obtained. The aviatrix sent it by wireless from Nassau to Miami and it went thence by cable to the Associated Press bureau at Havana.

EXPLODING SHELLS START FIRE THAT TAKES FOUR LIVES

SIX OTHERS INJURED WHEN HUNTING LODGE IS DESTROYED

OTIS, Mass., Dec. 2.—(AP)—Four hunters perished and six others were burned and wounded by explating shells when a camp in which 14 men were housed was destroyed by fire near here early today.

The dead are Otto Rittner and Joseph Genniv of New Britain, Conn., and Thomas Hill and Daniel Reilly of Shelton, Conn.

The hunters were awakened when a stove exploded. The fire gained headway so rapidly that boxes of shotgun shells soon began to discharge.

Ten of the men, scantily clad, jumped through windows of the two story cottage, but the other four were trapped by flames. The weather was frigid, the mercury registering five degrees above zero.

The camp was located half a mile from the nearest telephone and it was only after farmers noticed the flames that aid arrived. The injured men, suffering from burns and wounds, were taken to a hospital in Winsted, Conn., when residents arrived in automobiles. Two of the four automobiles at the camp were burned, while the keys to the others were lost in the blaze.

Crew of German Ship Rescued By British Cruiser

HONGKONG, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The British cruiser Suffolk today rescued the crew of the German motorship Hedwig, ashore on Pratas Reef between here and the Philippines, after a thrilling battle with waves and wind.

The Suffolk, arriving today near the reef, where the Hedwig had been aground since yesterday and was slowly going to pieces, sent a motorboat through two miles of heavy sea, dotted with coral knolls and rocks, to the ship's aid.

The Suffolk wirelessed later "am proceeding to Hongkong with the Hedwig's crew," apparently indicating that the boat had arrived safely.

KANSAS PUBLISHER THREATENED UNLESS PRODUCES $50,000

GIRARD, Kas., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Sheriff J. M. Hyndman said today that E. Haldeman-Julius, author and publisher had reported receiving a letter from extortionists demanding $50,000 under the threat of harm to members of his family.

The sheriff said two attempts to trap the alleged extortionists failed last sight. Officers surrounded a school house Hyndman said was designated in the letter but no one appeared.

Later, according to the officer, Mrs. Haldeman-Julius informed him she had received a mysterious telephone call instructing that the money be placed in an old mill nearby.

BELIEVED PERIL OF BRITISH COAL STRKIE IS PAST

LONDON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The grave peril of a national coal strike which has hung over British industry for a long time was at least temporarily removed today when a miners' conference voted by a narrow margin to reject a strike proposal.

The proxies cast were 230,000 against 209,000 for calling a strike. Then the delegates went out to lunch without making any official statement, but A. J. Cook, their secretary, said it looked as though the miners would find a way out of their trouble.

When the session resumed the conference settled down to work out some way to arrange the objectionable "spread over" working schedule which is at the bottom of the difficulty. Meantime 70,000 coal miners in Scotland continued the strike which began on Monday.

ANOTHER REASON FOR OIL TARIFF SHOWN BY FISH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The threat that construction of a proposed terminal at Baltimore to store Russion crude oil would be met with congressional action was made today by Chairman Fish, of the house communist committee.

"If Balimore officials agree to take that money from the American taxpayers to benefit Russia to the harm of our country, they must face the consequences," he said.

"Maybe this proposal will wake up the oil producing states to what can happen. The Americans are protected from Russian wheat importations by a stiff duty. But there is no protection for lumber and crude oil."

HOOVER INVITED TO SAN ANTONIO FOR CELEBRATION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The City of San Antonio today invited President Hoover to attend the 200th anniversary of the construction of the Spanish's governor's palace on March 5-7.

The invitation was presented by Mrs. Henry Drought, who was accompanied to the White House by Senator Sheppard of Texas and Mrs. Sheppard.

The senator said the king and queen of Spain and President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico would also be invited through the Spanish and Mexican embassies.

He added the president showed great interest and said if he were unable to attend, he would certainly have himself represented by a cabinet officer.

Soldiers Patrol Beach to Prevent Landing Liquor

TIJUANA, Lower Cal., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Soldiers armed with rifles and sabres today patrolled the ocean shores, highways and lowlands between this city and Ensenada to prevent unloading of contraband liquor valued at thousands of dollars, said to compose the cargoes of a fleet of ships in rum row off the coast of Lower California.

In conformity with the pledge of Mexican officials to co-operate the American authorities, secret service agents on both sides of the international border have redoubled their vigilance to halt the flood of liquor along the line Southwest of San Ysidro, Cal., long regarded as the easiest route for smugglers.

Tardieu Is Given Backing of Chamber

PARIS, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Tardieu, "the tireless," as they are beginning to call him, got another pat on the back in the chamber of deputies today when he was sustained by 64 votes in a vote of confidence on a socialist proposal to increase the huge expenditures for national public improvements projects.

He fared less well, however, a few minutes later when the chamber, over the government's head, sent to the finance committee an amendment authorizing loans to carry on public improvements when government funds were temporarily unavailable.

This motion carried by three votes, but the deefat did not call for resignation of the cabinet.

ALLISON TALKS OF RECENT CONVENTION OF TEXAS TEACHERS

LOCAL FRIEND HIGHER EDUCATION HAS PRAISES FOR PRESIDENT FILLERS

Another echo from the State Teacher's association at Houston last week comes from A. A. Allison, who went with the five high school boys who were selected from our high school band to participate in the organization of the All High School Band of Texas perfected there.

Corsicana's boys looked and acted classy, Mr. Allison stated. The music rendered by the one-hundred boys brought from the high schools in many parts of the state exceeded in quality the fondest expectations, from youngsters performing together their first time. Applause and strongly favorable comment whenever they played made the deciding factors in making the organization permanent, to meet annually at the Teacher's Associations.

Mr. Allison says he acted the part of a veteran teacher during the teachers meeting, heard the principal addresses, reviewed the educational displays from schools throughout the state, milled around hotels with teachers, got many view points of educational subjects; and especially was he pleased to learn of the exceptional work done by, and stability and prestige of the junior colleges, now proved to have an enduring place in the economy of the educational structure of Texas, as in other states. They are more than seven hundred enrolled this term in the Houston Junior college, and one of the teachers is Mr. Henderson, formerly superintendent of the Blooming Grove school, from which place he went to the State University to secure his master's degree.

Rural Teachers Absent.

The one sad feature, Mr. Allison said, he detected in the meeting, was the scarcity in attendance of rural teachers at this great meeting of teachers. He said he was impressed with the claim of Dr. Knight of University of North Carolina that, while our city schools were now coming up abreast of the better schools of the nation, that rural education in Texas and the South stood at near the bottom of the list.

He learned from Mr. Henderson that many rural teachers were enrolled for professional work in the Houston Junior college.

The Junior college at Houston uses one of the high school buildings and appliances, beginning each day's session at 3:30 p. m., and running until 9 p. m.

The meeting at Houston, Mr. Allison states, was easily the greatest meeting the association ever held, measured by interest manifested, attendance, program put over, and the enthusiasm on every hand, and judged by the spontaneous approval of the many activities going on all the time, by the hundreds that he heard express themselves.

He said he owed no reserve to modesty, as Mr. Filers clearly showed in his interview of Monday; that the meeting was the product of Mr. Filler's great leadership and organizing ability, together with his enviable status as an educator and leader in educational thought; that praise for the surpassing character of the Houston meeting came from everybody, visiting teachers and citizens.

Mr. Allison said he took pains to tell those who inquired of his residence that he was from Corsicana, the city furnishing the leader and president of the wonderful meeting then in progress.

Consolidation Rural Schools To Follow Good Lateral Roads

MEXIA, Dec. 4.—(Spl.)—A program of efficient and economical consolidation of rural schools in Texas awaits better lateral roads, in the opinion of J. C. Cochran, Mexia, newly elected president of the Texas State Teachers association. Mr. Cochran expressed his hope thamt the state bond issue will be adopted so that money will be returned to the counties to improve lateral roads so that schools may be grouped to give the rural boys and girls equal advantage with the urban.

Mr. Cochran was elected president at the Houston convention, just 50 years after the association was formed at a convention in Mexia. While in Houston he called on Governor-elect R. S. Sterling and says he is pleased with the interest Mr. Sterling is taking in educational matters. He was assured of the new governor's interest in the legislative program of the teachers.

Famous Detective Says Al Capone Not Such a "Big Shot"

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Alfonse Capone, gang leader, in the opinion of Michael Fiaschetti, famous New York detective, is not such a "big shot" as he is generally believed to be.

"Al," he said, 'is just like a wolf who steals chickens. After the wolf has taken a dozen chickens from a farmer's coop, the neighbors may come by night and steal a few dozen more. But the wolf always gets the blame when a chicken is missing. That's the way with Capone. He gets credit for many things of which he knows nothing."

Fiaschetti came here for a visit with friends.

HOUSE WET BLOC SEEKING MEMBERS WHO HAVE CHANGED

REPEAL MOVES FOR PROHIBITION LAW LEFT UNTIL LATER DATE BY CAUCUS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The wet bloc of the house has opened wide its membership book and is asking for new names on the dotted lines.

Laying plans at a caucus yesterday for continuing warfare on prohibitions laws, the wets decided the present was an excellent time for any members who may have changed their views since last session to declare themselves.

Repeal moves were left to a later day but meanwhile, the members decided to exhaust parliamentary tactics in opposing appropriations for denaturing industrial alcohol with poisons and to petition the judiciary committee for approval of a bill to authorize manufacture and sale of beer.

The must move fast on the alcohol poisoning, for the appropriations are contained in the treasury supply bill now before the house for action within the week.

No decision was reached on whether to oppose the $2,000,000 increase for the prohibition bureau, but the militant chairman, Linthicum, democrat, Maryland, was set for an individual fight on this item anyway. He predicted the seventy-third congress, to be elected two years hence, would end prohibition by refusing to appropriate enforcement funds. The seventy-second congress, meeting next year, he said will see the wet block increased to 160.

While these plans were being laid a resolution was adopted by the executive committee of the federal council of churches declaring for an educational campaign to promote prohibition. Under the plan young people's groups would discuss temperance along the lines laid down for them.

PROPOSED FREIGHT RATE INCREASE TO FLORIDA DENIED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Proposed increased freight rates on fruit and other commodities between Pacific coast and Florida peninsular points today were denned by the Interstate Commerce commission.

The schedules filed on June 2 by the roads proposed to cancel joint transcontinental aill rail class and commodity rates between Pacific coast points and related intermediate points and Florida points in what is known as the peninsular zone. They proposed to apply rates composed of combinations of rates based on northern Florida gateway.

In most instances these through rates were higher than the old rates on fruits, vegetables, canned goods and fruit wrappers.

The commission held the rates would be discriminatory to Florida points involved.

About 1800 carloads of freight a year were involved, one-third fruit.

FEDERATION LABOR HEAD GIVES FIGURES ON UNEMPLOYED MEN

AT RATE OF INCREASE FOR NOVEMBER SEVEN MILLION SOON BE JOBLESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—American Federation of Labor estimates today showed 4,860,000 laboring men out of work in November.

This figure was given out by Willian Green, president of the federation with a warning that at the rate of increase for the past month, February would see 7,000,000 jobless. Neither figure covered office workers or farm laborers out of work.

The estimate was based on reports from unions in 24 cities, checked against statistics of the department of labor and other employment agencies. Green termed it a close picture of the situation.

The senate, on motion of Senator Shipstead, farmer-labor, Minnesota, has requested a report from the president's emergency committee on employment. Measures are already in the making for federal aid through appropriations for expanded construction, but congressional criticism has been voiced on the contention the help would come too late to do any good during the winter, when worst conditions are expected.

Democratic criticism came also from Joulett Shouse, chairman of the party's executive committee who, while praising the Hoover program, said: "Had it not been for his (the president's)) procrastination the expedients he now suggests would have been inaugurated six months ago."

FRICTION OVER SEED RELIEF BILL BEFORE COMMITTEE

LOUISIANA SOLON CHARGES SECRETARY HYDE CONTROLLED IN MATTER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—A dift in the house agriculture committee widened today in the consideration of proposals to authorize funds for loans to farmers for seed, fertilizer and feed to rehabilitate the drought stricken areas.

Dr. C. W. Warburton, secretary of the federal drought relief committee, testified in favor of the $25,000,000 fund, as proposed in a resolution by Chairman Haugen of the committee.

Representative Aswell of Louisiana, ranking minority member, charged Warburton "controlled Secretary Hyde" on seed and fertilizer loan matters. He said Warburton had arbitrarily placed the relief figure at $25,000,000 when, he said, state drought committee had estimated $60,000,000 was needed.

The Louisianan is author of a resolution to provide $6,0000,000.

The witness rejoined that Aswell pays me a great compliment when he says I control Secretary Hyde, for you men know Secretary Hyde is controlled by no one."

The senate agriculture committee opens hearings tomorrow on the relief legislation.

The house committee became further embroiled when Aswell charged that maneuverings over the proposed legislation by Secretary Hyde, Chairman Haugen of the committee, and Chairman McNary of the senate agriculture committee, constituted "the crookedest, cheapest, meanest peanut political action ever thrust in my face."

The Louisianan declared McNary had promised him to support the $60,000,000 bill, but only yesterday introduced one identical with Haugen's resolution for $25,000,000.

"I'm expressing the opinion," Aswell said, "that Chairman Haugen is against giving drought relief. He is so well fixed with hog and hominy in his section, he does not care about anything else."

COMMUNISTS ARE ACTIVE THURSDAY ALL OVER GERMANY

(AP)—Two score rifles, nearly a hundred revolvers and a sizeable arsenal of other weapons were in the hands of the police today while they examined 321 fascists arrested yesterday at the frontier town of Jaeschkowitz. All but four were released later.

Herr Von Oelffen, owner of the house in which the arrests were made, told police today that the prisoners had been given refuge on his estate when they told him they feared for their lives in a communist revolt. Three of the four persons detained were said to be division leaders of the Breslau fascist organization.

There was a technical difficulty in prosecuting them as they were not actually carrying forbidden arms at the moment of arrest but had hidden them under straw when police surrounded the house in which they were meeting.

Several Injured.

PLAUEN, Germany, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Several policemen and civilians were injured during the night when 6000 hungry marchers rioted in the streets here, smashing windows and threatening raids on provision stores. The demonstration was broken up with considerable difficulty.

SPECTACULAR FIRE CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGE TO STANDARD OIL PLANT BROOKLYN TODAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Fire which swept the Pratt works of the Standard Oil Company on the Brooklyn waterfront early today broke out again this forenoon after being brought under control once.

Starting shortly before midnight, the flames threatened for a time to wipe out the entire plant.

Two hundred thousand gallons of gasoline, crude oil and turpentine and 18 tanks were destroyed and piers, barges, a fireboat and a tanker were damaged as the fiery mass poured into the East river.

Officials of the Standard Oil Company said their loss was between $250,000 and $500,000. Fire department officers had said earlier that damage might total a million dollars.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Streams of flaming oil pouring from the Pratt Works of the Standard Oil company illuminated the Brooklyn waterfront early today.

The fire, which threatened for a time to wipe out the entire plant, was stemmed by forces working by land and by water after three hours fight.

More than 200,000 gallons of gasoline, crude oil and turpentine and 18 tanks in which it was stored, were destroyed. Piers, barges, a fireboat and a tanker were damaged as the fiery mass poured into East river between the Williamsburg and Fifty-ninth street bridges.

Fire department officials said the loss might reach a million dollars. Precautions were taken to protect the plant of the Brooklyn Union Gas company an dnearby tenements.

The fire started in a terrific explosion of a 10,000 gallon crude oil tank. Through underground pipes, the flames and burning fuel spread quickly to a 50,000-gallon petroleum tank, eight more crude oil receptacles and eight turpentine tanks.

As the petroleum tank blew up, it tore away an 19-foot brick wall, hurling debris on the firefighters. The remaining tanks produced blasts as they caught fire and rocked the area. The liberated oil flowed into the river through sewers and over the ground.

The blaze narrowly missed igniting a three-story brick warehouse filled with 5,000 cases of naphtha and 500 drums of pale oil. The fireboat New Yorker and the oil tanker Vermont flamed up but were saved. Several barges were caught in the inferno but a number were taken out in the river for safety.

Some 40 companies, comprising about 300 men, and four fireboats trained great streams of water and chemicals on the blaze. Flaming oil was chased from manhole to manhole in a sewer which ran through the plant into the river. Despite the intense heat and falling masses of molten metal, no firemen were hurt.

Texan Finds Big Liner Not Built For His Length

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Jackie Earle—eight feet, six inches and 330 pounds of him—was headed for Europe today on a protesting liner.

Earle, a spanking lad of 24, who calls El Paso, Texas, his home, boarded the Hamburg last night—with difficulty. The first thing he bumped into was the eight foot ceiling of the pier elevator. But his troubles had only begun.

Research acquainted him with the act that the ship elevators, cabins, salons and enclosed decks all had eight foot tops. The carpenter took one look and started building a two-foot extension to his berth and the steward put in a call for more elongated linen.

Earle is a circus performer and is on his way to London.

BANK ROBBERY IS STAGED IN MOST SPECTACULAR WAY

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Two masked men armed with sawed-off shotguns today held up the Metairie Bank, in the Metairie road outside New Orleans, terrorized the cashier and teller and took all the money in the teller's cage. They escaped in an automobile driven by a confederate.

A check by the bank officials revealed that the robbres stole approximately $2,500. During the robbery a confederate stopped traffic on the highway and left a clear path for their escape in a big automobile.

The trio jumped into their car and sped in the direction of Lake Pontchartrain far outdistancing two motorists who gave pursuit.

The bandit car crashed through the guard gates at the railroad crossing and whirled across the tracks just ahead of an onrushing train.

The gunmen entered the bank with drawn guns. They whirled to the door in the midst of a number of pedestrians. All witnesses were held in their tracks by the outside highwayman while the others rushed into the bank and seized all the loose cash.

Persons within the bank were lined against the wall while the robbery was executed.

MUDDY FIELD TO HURT AERIALS OF BOTH AGGREGATIONS

BOTH AGGREGATIONS EXPECTED TO FLASH NUMBER OF TRICK PLAYS

Corsicana and Oak Cliff high school football teams went through strenuous practice periods Wednesday afternoon preparing for their battle for bi-district honors on Tiger field Saturday afternoon at 2:30 oclock. Both were unmindful of the slippery practice fields, and both showed confidence in their approaching melee.

The Tigers practiced on the high school grounds as the field was wet, and a snappy workout was given. Many new trick plays will likely be sent against the Cliff-Dwellers on their invasion here.

The return of James Russell, fullback, to the Cliff lineup Wednesday was hailed with delight by the Dallas fans. The big fellow has been out with injuries for some time, and his return will give added weight to the light Cliff-Dwellers.

Weather indications Thursday morning were not favorable for the wide-open attack planned by the mentors of the Dallas eleven, but Dallas and Corsicana officials were wishing for better weather for the game.

Reports out of Dallas are to the effect that the Cliff club will rely entirely upon an aerial thrust in an effort to down the Navarro Bengals in this game, and apparently are making no secret of their aerial attack plans.

Coach Noah of Oak Cliff was quoted as saying Wednesday afternoon that his club was planning to outfight the Tigers and try for breaks.

Plans have practically been completed for the broadcasting of the game over KRLD and WRR, Dallas stations, with the former giving only one hour and 15 minutes time while WRR will be on the air the entire time.

The Sinclair Oil comany is planning to install a number of loud speakers in the stands and give the yardage made, gained, and all other details of the game as it progresses as a courtesy to the fans on hand.

Plans have been outlined for the running of a large number of special interurbans from Dallas to Corsicana. Local Chamber of Commerce officials have stated that everyone in Corsicana who could furnish a courtesy car to aid in the carrying of the visitors to Tiger field were urged to do so. Hundreds of Dallasites will likely motor to Corsicana since an all-weather route via Waxachie is available.

About one-third of the reserved seats remained unsold Wednesday.

A large number of sport writers from over the Central and North Texas area will be on hand for this game.

ANNUAL INVITATION BASKETBALL TOURNEY STARTS DECEMBER 12

The fourth annual invitation basketball tournament, conducted by the Corsicana Y. M. C. A. will swing under way here Friday and Saturday, Dec. 12-13, according to an announcement Tuesday morning by C. F. Broughton, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. The county boasts of several new basketball teams this year, and it is expected that a larger number will enter the tournament this year than did last. To date four aggregations, Richland, Blooming Grove, Bradley and Providence, have signified their desire to enter the annual affair this year by paying their entrance fee.

All entry blanks, which have been mailed the various coaches of the county by Y. M. C. A. officials, must be in the mail before Wednesday morning, Dec. 10. Drawings for brackets will take place in the association's lobby Friday morning, Dec. 12, at 9 o'clock, and play will begin at 10, and continue until the first round has been run off. All games will begin on the hour.

Three handsome loving cups will be contested for this year, which if won three times by the same school will become the permanent property of that school. While Rural Shade and Providence quints have played against each other in the finals twice, neither team has won twice. The 1929 campaign was won by Rice over 19 other teams entered, with Mildred placing second, and Navarro third. Aside from the attractive loving cups given the school, members of the team winning first place will be awarded individual trophies, symbolic of the Y. M. C. A, and designating basketball as the event in which it was awarded ,instead of the usual gold basketball watch chain adornments.

In 1927, fifteen teams entered the competition, with Rural Shade first, Providence second, and Junior High (Corsicana) third. In 1928 17 teams entered the tournament, with Prividence winning first, Rural Shade second, and Rice third. Nineteen teams entered in 1929, with Rice taking first place, Mildred second, and Navarro third.

Wild Killer Freed.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Harry Gordon, 38, one of the six inmates liberated from Mattewan today, was sent to that institution for the slaying February 11, 1927, of two business rivals and the serious wounding of two others.

The giant cowboy-butcher, armed with two guns, shot and killed Harry Katz on the doorstep of his home, brushed aside witnesses of the killing and drove his car to the Toltz market, where he fatally shot Sam Toltz beside his meat block.

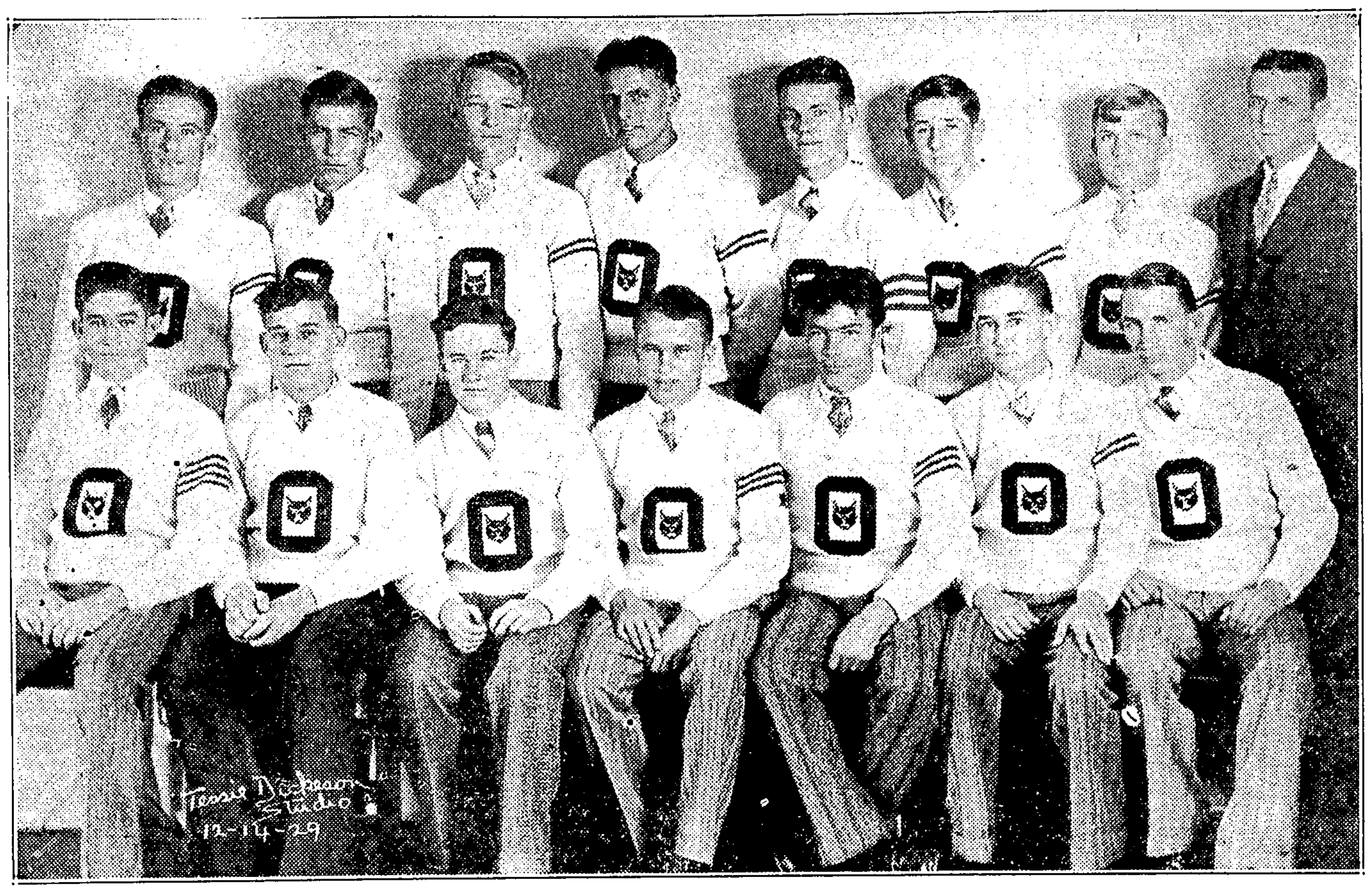
Before the police, a jump behind the mad slayer, could catch up, Gordon entered a delicatessen store and sent two bullets into the body of Morris Klass, another business rival.

Jack Cohen, working for Klass, was shot in the leg.

Hundreds of residents of the Jewish section stormed the police station and demanded protection from the mad butcher and terror was widespread.

Gordon confessed the killings and even boasted of them. He was found not guilty but insane.

ODD FELLOWS CLASH VS. MART FRIDAY



The above photo is the 1930 I. O. O. F. Home Lynx football team which will represent Corsicana and the district 14-B teams on Tiger field Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock against the invasion of the heavy Mart Panthers, champions of the district 13-B, in their B bi-district championship struggle.

A large crowd of Corsicana and Mart grid fans will be on hand for the kick-off, and a real tussle is anticipated. Both have compiled fine records this season and plenty of action will likely be shown the cash customers.

The Odd Fellows went through the season with six conference victories and no defeats. All Corsicana is pulling for the Odd Fellows to come through in this highly important football game, and several hundred will likely see the melce.

Tickets for the game have been on sale at the various down-town drug stores and confectioneries during the week.

HOUSTON SCHOOL WILL BATTLE AUSTIN IN BI-DISTRICT TILT

PORT ARTHUR, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The eleven of John Reagan of Houston defeated Port Arthur high, 18 to 0, here Wednesday afternoon to win the championship of District 7 in the state interscholastic league race.

Reagan's first two touchdowns were made in the second period and the third in the third period.

The victory gave the Houston school the right to contest with Austin high next Saturday for a chance to move a step closer to the state title.

Barrett carried a long pass over the first touchdown for the visitors and not long afterward Reichert plunged over for the second after Roberts, with a 14-yard run, had brought the ball to scoring distance. Asdell ran the third over.

The spectators were estimated unofficially to have numbered more than 8,000.

Roberts, the Houston school's flashy quarterback, made some of the game's most spectacular runs. Once he returned 45 yards down the middle of the field before the Jacket safety downed him.

Roane Defeated Pickett Tuesday Night Y Court

The Roane high school quint emerged on the larger end of a 21-6 count in competition with the Pickett basketball team on the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium court Tuesday night. Spense and McClintock, Roane forwards, scooped the scoring honors with nine and eight respectively, while Compton and Galloway of Pickett were tied for third place with three points each.

Score at the end of the first three quarters was very evenly matched, but in the fourth Roane came back and ran up 11 markers, while Pickett managed to make but one point on a free toss during the same period.

SPORT NOTES

By PAUL MOORE, LIGHT SPORTS EDITOR

The final hard workout for the Tigers before they meet the strong Oak Cliff Leopards on Tiger Field in the bi-district contest was given Thursday afternoon and only a light workout will be given Friday afternoon to brush up on the offense and defense.

Oak Cliff Leopards will take to the air early in the game. Oak Cliff will show a vast improvement this week over their performance earlier in the season, and although the conductor of this column has no definite knowledge in the matter, some of the high school coaches in Dallas may be aiding the mentors of the Cliff Dwellers this week—they have in past years, and the writer does know that Bill Bushman, coach of Sunset High school, was in the press box at the Corsicana-Cleburne game, diagraming the plays. We don't know he was scouting for Oak Cliff, but dont' expect that he was scouting for Cleburne, and he surely was not scouting for his club.

But little does Corsicana care who is coaching the Cliff Dwellers. We will string along with the three local mentors and the Tigers against the field, and believe that the Tigers will be out there fighting savagely for their coaches, the high school, Corsicana, and a chance to further advance in the race for the state championnship, but the Tigers will have to be on their toes, for this Gore, mainspring of the Leopard attack, apparently is poison, and has scored about 140 points this season.

There is another game to be played in Corsicana this week, however, and it will be on the Tiger Field Friday unless weather conditions are unfavorable. If the field is muddy, the scene of the bi-district competition between the I. O. O. F. Home, District 14-B champions, and the Mart Panthers, winners in 13-B, will be shifted to the I. O. O. F. gridiron. Admission for this game is 35c and 75c. Mart will be the slight favorite among the neutral critics, and will considerably outweigh the Odd Fellows, but this game will not be the first that the local club has been the underdog and outweighed, and the full strength of the Lynx club will be available for duty this week end for the first time in weeks.

The Odd Fellows deserve much credit for their sensational performance this year in winning the district championship against a field of 17 other clubs, especially atking into consideration the fact that this was the first year that the Odd Fellows have been members of the Interscholastic League. This year is also the first year that Coach A. Cruce has coached a football team.

The Mart Panthers are coached by Brooks Coonover, a Dallas high school product, and later a star athlete at Texas A. & M. College.

The winner of the Odd Fellow-Mart contest will represent the Central Texas area in the regional B contest, which will be as far as B clubs compete. There are four regional football B championships yearly.

Among the players who will play in teams being gathered by Dana X. Bible of ebraska to play the West team in the annual East-West game in San Francisco Dec. 27, are Noble Atkins, T. C. U. center; Louie Long, S. M. U., end; Dexter Shelley, Texas, fullback; Bochey Koch, guard, and Jake Wilson, quarterback, both of Baylor.

There is a movement on foot for the addition of a couple more Class A districts next year—one in the Rio Grande Valley and another in the El Paso area. It might be added that in some of the present districts, there are too many clubs.

John Reagan high school of Houston defeated the Port Arthur club, 18-0, in their championship battle in Port Arthur Wednesday afternoon and will meet Austin Saturday in the bi-district competition. Many of the sport critics had picked the Port Arthur club to win, the writer included. Port Arthur was the co-champion with the Breckenridge Buckaroos last year after their scoreless tie played in the snow at Waco.

The eight District Class A champions who will clash this week end are Amarillo, 1, vs. Breckenridge, 2, at Amarillo; Oak Cliff (Dalas) 3, vs. Corsicana, 4, at Corsicana; Greenville, 5, vs. Tyler, 6, at Tyler; John Reagan (Houston) 7, vs. Austin, 8, at Austin.

The Dallas Times-Herald of Wednesday afternoon carried a picture of the 1910 Corsicana Tiger team—including Beauford Jester, Dr. J. Wilson David, Gus Mays, Johnny Garitty, Jim Payne, Jim Blair, Carl Hale, Phillips Bullock, Watson Stein, Paoli Blair, Coach Wilkerson, John Doggett, Kerr McClellan, Vaugan Miller, Spurlock, E. F. Jack, and others.

PURDON HAS PAID ENTRY FEE COUNTY BASKETBALL MEET

With the addition of several new teams in the county this year, officials of the Y. M. C. Freestone Cagers Active This Week

TEAGUE, Dec. 4.—(Spl.)—There are several important cage games scheduled this week in Freestone county. Chief among these is the game to be played Friday afternoon at Donie between the Dew and Donie quintets.

The Dew basketeers were nosed out last Friday by the Donie quintet by a two-point margin, which was their only defeat out of five games played this season, while the Donie five still remain undefeated out of four games played.

PECULIAR FATALITY.

MONROE, N. C., Dec. 4.—(AP)—C. A. Baker, 55, came home from hunting, stood his gun in a corner of his house and walked out into the yard.

The gun, loaded with buckshot, slipped to the floor and discharged. The load tore through the wall of the house and struck Baker in the head, killing him instantly.

Currie Swamped Mildred Monday Afternoon at Y

Coach Slaughter's proteges from Currie swamped the pride of Mildred high school in a fast battle, 25-16 on the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium court Monday afternoon. Dubose, forward for the victors, was high point man with six loops for 12 markers, with J. Burnett of Mildred playing at forward position, placing second in the scoring with four field goals for eight points.

The Currie basketeers held their adversaries scoreless during the first frame, while they accounted for eight points. In the second, Mildred chalked up six tallies, while Currie swelled its lead to 18 markers, and at the end of the third quarter the score stood 22-8 in favor of Currie, and 25-16 at the end of the game.

Here Is Some Good News For the Children Of The Rural Districts Between the Ages of 7 and 16 Years

Free Christmas Money For Every Child

If They Want It

READ THE PARTICULARS

From now until Christmas Eve Night the Semi-Weekly Morning Light will make hundreds of children of the rural districts happy by giving them the opportunity of making some extra Christmas money of their own.

Here Is The Plan, And It Will Be Easy

For every Ten One Year Subscriptions sent in for the Light the child will be given $5.00 in cash. There will be no limit to the number of subscriptions sent in.

This will include new as well as renewal subscriptions, and it is very important that in sending in the names that the correct name with initials and address and Rural Route be given.

The parents of the children are urged to assist them in making their correct list of names when sent in.

This proposition is for the children only of the rural districts with there being no limit to the territory they may cover in securing subscriptions.

Just as soon as ten subscribers are secured send in the names and correct address and the money, after which $5.00 in cash will be given free.

There will be plenty af time before Christmas to make some easy money, and every child wanting to enter this campaign is urged to begin immediately.

The Light is $1.00 a year in advance, same being delivered twice each week for one year, 104 issues; briming full of local, foreign and other syndicated news and comics, etc.

CONGRESS RECEIVED ANNUAL MESSAGE OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE

DROUGHT RELIEF AND UNEMPLOYMENT STRESSED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Poised for immediate action, congress today received from President Hoover recommendation that unemployment and drought relief legislation be given priority.

The annual presidential message was read first in the house, the membership listening attentively to the administration's program for prompt relief and disposal of unfinished business, including the controversial Muscle Shoals bill.

Authority to make increased temporary advances for federal road aid was asked by the president, together with a request for $150,000,000 to expedite construction and provide work.

"Such action," the president said "will imply an expenditure of over $650,000,000 during the next twelve months."

Republicans and democrats, already pledged to a bi-partisan emergency relief program by their leaders, vied with one another in putting forward measures to carry it into effect.

No figure was mentioned in connection with drought relief, but Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, has prepared a bill, bearing republican support, which calls for a $60,000,000 loan fund.

The chief executive foresaw a deficit of $180,000,000 for the current fiscal year and a surplus of only $30,000,000 next year, even with discontinuance of the one per cent tax reduction on 1929 incomes.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly the absolute necessity to defer any other plans for increase of government expenditures," he wrote.

"Rigid economy,' is necessary, he said, if an increase in taxes is to be avoided.

He praised the London naval treaty and said that during the past year "our relations with foreign countries have been maintained upon a high basis of cordiality and good-will."

Unemployment and Drought Relief Is Stressed by Hoover

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(AP)—President Hoover set unemployment and drought relief at the top of the program for the short session recommended today in his message to congress.

To accelerate all federal construction in the next six months, he requested an emergency appropriation up to $150,000,000. The amount for seed and feed loans to farmers was left for congressional determination.

Estimating this year's deficit would reach $180,000,000, he said. "I can not emphasize too strongly the absolute necessity to defer any other plans for increase of government expenditures."

A surplus of only $30,000,000 is in sight for 1932, the president warned, even with discontinuance of the one per cent tax reduction on 1929 incomes. "Rigid economy" was declared necessary" to avoid increase in taxes."

In addition to the relief enactments, he advocated early completion of the following legislation: Muscle Shoals, motor bus regulation, relief of court congestion, border patrol reorganization to prevent smuggling, and law enforcement in the national capital.

Neither prohibition or the work of the law enforcement commission was discussed.

Special Message Later

Mr. Hoover concluded with a reiteration of intention to transmit later to the senate in a special message, the revised protocol for American adherence to the world court.

In connection with providing employment, he stated a need for authority to make some enlarged temporary advances of federal highway aid to the states. Another proposal was that the $150,000,000 appropriation be made distributable to the different departments upon recommendation of a cabinet committee and presidential approval.

"Its application to works already authorized by the congress assures its use in directions of economic importance and to public welfare," he wrote. "Such action will imply an expenditure upon construction of all kinds of over $650,000,000 during the next twelve months."

Looks Ahead

Looking beyond the short session, the chief executive recommended several questions for congressional consideration, "perhaps through committees cooperating in some intsances with the federal departments, with a view to preparation for subsequent action."

These included effective regulation necessary to facilitate railroad consolidation; revision of immigration laws to place them on a more limited, selective and flexible basis; and adjustment of inequalities in services and allowances to veterans.

Strengthening of deportation laws to more fully rid the country of criminal aliens was urged.

Another matter placed in the category for later determination was a recommendation to authorize federal building of secondary postal facilities, to prevent "further uneconomic leasing." The president attributed such leasing by past administrations to deferment of government building.

Taking the position that the tax on capital gains enhances speculative inflation and impedes business recovery, the president advocated an inquiry of the economic efforts of the tax and its general relation to income tax law.

Anti-Trust Laws

Still another study proposed would be directed to the workings of the anti-trust laws to determine if economic evils attributed to their operation "can be remedied without sacrifice of the fundamental purpose of those laws."

The final definite step suggested for congress to take when time is at hand looks "to the development through temporary federal aid of adequate state and local services for the health of children and the stamping out of communicable disease, especially in the rural sections."

"It is my belief that after the passing of this depression, when we can examine it in retrospect," Mr. Hoover said, "we shall need to conisder a number of other questions as to what action may be taken by the government to remove possible governmental influences which make for instability and to better organize mitigation of the effect of depression. It is as yet too soon to constructively formulate such measures.

"There are many administrative subjects, such as departmental reorganization, extension of the civil service, readjustment of the postal rates, etc., which at some appropriate time require the attention of the congress."

Congress Prepares For Business Ahead

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Business was the order for congress today in contrast to yesterday's few minutes of opening ceremonies and reunion back-slapping.

The legislators looked to President Hoover for the formal signal to proceed, friend and foe both awaiting the chief executive's recommendations, contained in his annual message. This, by custom, comes to the capitol on the second day of the session.

They lost no time, however, in drawing programs for the drive aimed at a clean sweep of essential legislation before midnight of March 3, 1931. The unofficial steering committee of the house under Majority Leader Tilson was making up a tentative calendar for passing in quick order emergency unemployment legislation and annual supply bills. The success of such a program, however, will rest largely on the developments attending the numerous controversial issues which are notfar in the background.

The senate was supposed to take up just where it left off in regular session last summer—debating the house bill to regulate interstate operation of motor buses. But it had in prospect an immediate showdown on the right of James J. Davis to assume his seat as junior senator from Pennsylvania.

Davis said yesterday he was willing to delay presenting his credentials until today. Chairman Nye of the special campaign funds committee, who asked the delay, indicated he would want still more time to study new Pennsylvania primary expenditure reports. Senator Dill, democrat, Washington, said he was ready to present a resolution to refer Davis' credentials to the Nye committee.

An early gathering of the senate and house conference committee on the Muscle Shoals deadlock was in prospect also, and while Chairman McNary of the senate group said the proffered house compromise was not acceptable, there was some hope for action. Tilson has promised a clear track in the house for any erport the conferees may submit.

Unemployment and Drought

The one field so far free of concontroversy—unemployment and drought relief legislation—was expected to receive further attention by the senate today with introduction of a number of bills. Both by democrats and republicans. This chamber delays introduction of new measures to the second day, while the house already has accumulated a sizeable calendar of proferred bills and resolutions.

With these activities on the surface, senate republican leaders were working hard on the effort to keep the world court issue from breaking up the orderly progress of the session. They feared President Hoover's decision to submit the court protocols for senate ratification made it doubtful an extra session could be forestalled.

While congress was convening yesterday, a small band of communists was conducting demonstrations and fighting police outside the capital, but the members proceeded as though totally unaware of the disturbance.

Into the bill hopper, however, went a measure by Representative Bachmann, republican, West Virginia, to bar all Russian immigration from now on. It was the first of several measures expected to be aimed this session at the red movement.

Pointed Sentences In Hoover Message

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Here are some pointed sentences from President Hoover's message today to congress:

"Economic depression can not be cured by legislative action or executive pronouncement. Economic wounds must be healed by the action of the cells of the economic body—the producers and consumers themselves." * * *

"Some time ago it became evident that unemployment would continue over the winter. * * * We have as a nation a definite duty that no deserving person in our country suffer from hunger or cold."

"As a contribution to the situation, the federal government is engaged upon the greatest program of waterway, harbor, flood control, public building, highway, and airway improvement in all our history. This together with loans to merchant shipbuilders, improvement of the navy and in military aviation, and other construction work of the government will exceed $520,000,000 for this fiscal year."

"To increase taxation for purposes of construction work defeats its own purpose, as such taxes directly diminish employment in private industry."

"Our immediate problem is the increase of employment for the next six months, and new plans which do not produce such immediate result or which extend commitments beyond this period are not warranted."

"I urge the strengthening of our deportation laws so as to more fully rid ourselves of criminal aliens."

"The political agitation in Asia; revolutions in South America and political unrest in some European states; the methods of sale by Russia of her increasing agricultural exports to European markets; and our own drought—have all contributed to prolong and deepen the depression.

"In the larger view the mapor forces of the depression now lie outside of the United States, and our recuperation has been retarded by the unwarranted degree of fear and apprehension created by these outside forces.'

Bill Introduced Aid Unemployment

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(AP)—President Hoover's message recommending an appropriation of $150,000,000 for emergency unemployment relief had hardly been read in the senate today before a bill was introduced to carry out his program.

Senator Glenn, republican, Illinois, introduced a measure to create immediately a $150,000,000 emergency fund to be used to accelerate the construction of public works, including federal aid highways, heretofore authorized by congress.

Suspension of immigration "in aid of the unemployed" was asked in a bill introduced by Representative Cable, republican, Ohio. The bill would require immediate suspension of immigration, applying both to quota and nonquota countries.

A joint resolution to require that resident labor be used in the construction of public works and be paid the highest prevailing wages was introduced by Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan.

In the house, Chairman Elliott, of the buildings committee, introduced a bill to give the treasury power to contract for engineering services without competition and to limit the period for advertising bids.

The treasury secretary would also receive authority to obtain outside professional services, to increase employment.

HEALTH NURSES VISITING SCHOOLS NAVARRO COUNTY

Miss Jean M. Campbell, public health nurse from Austin, and Miss Fulcrod, Corsicana public health nurse, are visiting many of the schools of Navarro county, examining the school children. Andrew G. Steele, county superintendent, announced Wednesday.

The children of the Purdon schools were examined Tuesday and those of Zion's Rest were visited Wednesday. Emhouse will be visited Thursday, and Providence Friday.

The inclement weather conditions are interfering with the scheduled visits to the various schools, it was stated.

Among other schools to be visited as soon as possible are Mildred, Navarro, Barry, Blooming Grove, Frost, Dawson, Union High, Pursley, Richland, Currie, Powell, Roane, Chatfield, Rice and Kerens.

Comments Heard On Hoover Message

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(AP)—President Hoover's message to congress today roused varying reactions on Capitol Hill, republicans in general praising its views and recommendations. The democrats were not so enthusiastic.

Speaker Longworth said:

"I think the message was a very interesting document. I liked the review of the business conditions. It was very encouraging."

On the senate side, Democratic Leader Robinson said the message disclosed a comprehensive study of the situation but was not complete.

Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, said it showed the president "to have no conception of existing conditions throughout the country."

Representative Tilson, the majority leader, said:

"The message was very timely and very sound. If we keep within the terms of it we will do everything there is to do."

Representative Purnell, republican, Indiana, said the message "impressed me very much," but Representative Rankin, democrat, Alabama, asserted it was "a disappointment."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Chairman Graham of the house judiciary committee introduced legislation today making permanent thirteen temporary district judgeships created in the last congress.

Graham said the bill is recommended by the department of justice. The districts in which the judgeships are made permanent are: Two in Massachusetts and one each in Southern New York, Eastern New York, New Jersey, Western Pennsylvania, Northern Texas, Eastern Michigan, Western Missouri, Northern Ohio, Eastern Missouri, Southern California and Arizona.

The bill directs the president to appoint a successor to the vacancy created by the resignation of Francis A. Winslow in the southern district of New York.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Use for relief purposes of 40,000,000 of the more than 100,000,000 bushels of wheat now held by agencies supported by the farm board will be authorized under a resolution introduced today by Senator Capper, republican, Kansas.

Spectators in the crowded court room burst into laughter at this admission, and even the judges smiled.

Much of the graft, Kuprianov said, came from American firms, and there was a system by which White Russians abroad got one per cent, and the anti-Soviet engineers at home collected one-fourth of the payments.

MOSCOW, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Extensive sabotage operations are being disclosed by the eight Soviet engineers on trial charged with plotting overthrow of the Moscow Communist regime.

Prosecutor N. B. Krilenko has drawn from each details of fantastic efforts to undermine the Russian industrial and economic structure in preparation for foreign intervention.

Disclosures have included falsification of figures on which the Soviet state planning commission is basing its development of the five year plan, excessive estimates on construction work, and insufficient planning of factory space so as to limit production.

Charnovsky, one of the defendants, yesterday listed two sabotage schemes which failed. One involved purchase of locomotives, with a weight of 39 tons on each axle. Engines of this weight would have been so heavy that all railway bridges would have had to be rebuilt at enormous expense. The other was to install automatic couplings on railway cars.

Kalinikow, another of the defendants, related how he had falsified estimates as to Russia's potential iron output for 1927 and 1928, although admitting that his figures were not accepted. He also told of sabotage activities in the chemical, lumber, paper, and cement industries.

Prof. Leoni Ramsin, leader of the defendants, said the industrial party, to which they all belonged, did not specify forms of sabotage to be practiced but gave members a general idea from which they developed their own schemes.

Prominent Illinois Man Found Shot to Death; Case Suicide

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—(AP)— Col. Charles E. Bleyer, who returned from retirement to direct his son's advertising firm after the son was shot to death took his own life today. He was found dead of a bullet wound in his hoom at the Union League club.

Col. Bleyer, 76, had been a member of the staff of two Illinois governors and formerly was active in national guard work.

Ten years ago he returned from a trip to Cuba to find his son, Captain Clifford Bleyer, had been slain by a woman who then killed herself. Five years ago Col. Bleyer again retired. No motive for suicide was known.

The bodies of Clifford Bleyer and Mrs. Ruth Randall, 27, daughter of H. E. Vale, Oklahoma City baker, were found in a South Side apartment in March, 1920. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of murder and suicide by the woman.

Col. Bleyer was secretary and treasurer of the Interstate National Guard Association, a delegate to the 1913 peace congress in Sweden and a member of the Lotus club of New York.

TWO STUDENTS OF TEXAS DISMISSED FOR LIQUOR PARTY

AUSTIN, Dec. 3.—(AP)—For taking part in a liquor party in the basement of a fraternity house here, which ended in the death of Mrs. Mildred Woodruff, 24, San Antonio widow, two students at the University of Texas had been dismissed today.

V. I. Moore, dean of men, announced the action, after their statement and those of other members of the fraternity had been heard by the committee on discipline.

He declined to divulge names of the students.

Mrs. Woodruff died early Friday as a result of alcoholic poisoning.

Dean Moore tacitly exonerated other members of the fraternity and the Greer Letter society as a body. He said evidence showed the two men implicated had gone to a remote corner of the basement, unknown to any of their fraternity brothers and undoubtedly would have left without the knowledge of any one except for the tragic death of the girl.

To this statement was added a formal statement by Lamda Chi Alpha fraternity, denying any legal or moral responsibility for the unfortunate occurrence.

Smithville Man Shot to Death in Rear of Own Home

SMITHVILLE, Dec. 4.—(AP)—George Kirkpatrick, 35, section foreman for a railroad here, was shot and fatally wounded in the rear of his home last night. He died in his wife's arms.

A man was arrested and was held in jail at Bastrop, county seat, today pending preparation of charges.

Kirkpatrick was shot in the head with a shotgun.

The justice of the peace at Smithville refused to say whether charges had been filed. The sheriff and city marshall who made the arrest could not be located.

IN MEMORY OF LITTLE BETTY JEAN ROACH.

On Monday, Oct. 6, the death angel visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. (Dutch) Roach and took from them their sweet little daughter, Betty Jean.

She was born on Jan. 21, 1928—just 21 months ago. It seems such a short time for one so sweet and pretty as she was to stay with us She was just beginning to talk good.

It was so hard to give her up and oh, how we all miss her. But the Lord knows best and He does everything for the best. There is one great consolation—we know she's at rest. The ones left behind have a guiding star to follow now.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to her heart-broken parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wiggley. The death was as hard for them to bear as it was for her own parents. They had been with her all her life.

We wish to thank all those who went to them in their dark hour of sorrow.

PRESIDENT OPPOSES CONTINUANCE OF TAX CUT UPON INCOMES

SUBMITS ANNUAL BUDGET MESSAGE CARRYING NEARLY FOUR BILLION DOLLARS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—(AP)—President Hover opposed continuance of reduced income taxes today in recommending to congress a $3,932,842,000 budget for the next fiscal year.

Reiterating the prediction of a $180,000,000 deficit this year, he warned that appropriations looking beyond action in the next six months to alleviate unemployment and drought difficulties would result in another deficit in 1932.

The house went to work on the treasury postoffice supply bill immediately after the budget was received.

The detailed estimates for 1932 included increases over current appropriations of $109,620,000 for veterans, $51,500,000 for federal-aid roads, $10,330,000 for public buildings $2,480,660 for prohibition enforcement, and $35,000,000 for the shipping board's construction loan fund. Decreases of $92,000,000 for tax refunds, $33,697,000 for national defense, and $22,000,000 for interest on the public debt were listed.

As to taxes cut one per cent on 1929 incomes, he said the outlook "for heavy decrease in probable income and the necessity to increase public works and aid to employment does not warrant continuation of the reduction."

The president likewise opposed attempts to meet the impending deficit by reduction of the statutory redemption of the public debt, now amounting to $440,000,000 per annum. He continued:

"Nor do I look with concern upon this moderate deficit for the current fiscal year, which, in fact, amounts to less than 5 per cent of the government expenditure. The adverse balance can be met by reducing the general fund balance from the amount in it at the beginning of the year, supplemented, if necessary, by temporary borrowing by the treasury.

"When we recollect that our budget has yielded large surpluses for the last 11 years, which have enabled us to retire the public debt, in addition to retirements required by law, to the extent of nearly $3,500,000,000 we can confidently look forward to the restoration of such surpluses with the general recovery of the economic situation, and thus the absorption of any temporary borrowing that may be necessary.

"It will probably be necessary for congress to appropriate additional money for expenditures within the present fiscal year in order to increase employment and to provide for the drought situation. * * * While this will operate to increase the amount of the deficit as above estimated, I believe such increase can be accommodated by the methods indicated. On the other hand, no appropriations should be made for such purposes which look beyond such action as will ameliorate the immediate situation during the next six months."

If congress appropriates cautiously, Mr. Hoover estimated the 1932 fiscal year would end with a $30,600,000 surplus.

"This is not a time when we can afford to embark upon any new or enlarged ventures of government," he emphasized. "It will tax our every resource to expand in directions providing employment during the next few months uponalready authorized projects.

"I realize that, naturally, there will be before the congress this session many legislative matters involving additions to our estimated expenditures for 1932, and the plea of unemployment will be advanced as reasons for many new venturers, but no reasonable view of the outlook warrants such pleas as apply to expenditures in the 1932 budget. I have full faith that in acting upon these matters the congress will give due consideration to our financial outlook. I am satisfied that in the absence of further legislation imposing any considerable burden upon our 1932 finances we can close that year with a balanced budget.

"When we stop to consider that we are progressively amortizing our public deft, and that a balanced budget is being presented for 1932, even after drastic writing down of expected revenue, I believe it will be agreed that our government finances are in a sound condition."

The president estimated that in 1932 total receipts, exclusive of the postal revenues, would reach $4,085,119,000 and total expenditures $4,054,519,000. For the present year he estimated receipts at $3,834,865,000 and expenditures at $,014,941,000.

Referring to the $520,000,000 public building program, the president said 535 projects have been authorized at limits of cost aggregating $378,560,000. Total actual expenditures on the program to last October amounted to $77,$27,625, and another $56,000,000 is scheduled to be spent during the next eight months.

The budget called for a total of $60,000,000 for this item during 1932. In addition to this, $16,500,000 will be left from the current year, making a total of $76,500,000 available next year.

The estimates for national defense called for a total of $689,084,000, with a decrease of $751,000 for the war department and of $32,946,000 for the navy.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—(AP)—The department of agriculture today recommended an appropriation of $25,000,000 for seed, feed and fertilizer loans to farmers in drough areas.

Informed there was greater need for seed loan legislation than ever before, Chairman Maugen called a meeting of the agriculture committee tomorrow to consider the recommendation.

The agriculture department urged quick action, "in view of the enormous number of individual applications for loans that will have to be examined, and the desirability of putting funds in the hands of farmers by the time they have actual need for them.'

Bills have been introduced in bothh ouses for an appropriation of $60,000,000 for seed and feed loans. Representative Aswell, of Louisiana, ranking democrat on the house agriculture committee, predicted that the congress would appropriate at least that much for drought relief.

Bobbitt to Appear Before U. S. Supreme Court On Monday

AUSTIN, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Attorney General Robert Lee Bobbitt will represent Texas in the suit of the American Fruit Growers, Inc., against the Brogdex company, set for hearing in the United States supreme court Monday. The suit was filed to prevent infestations. Attorneys general from Alabama, Arizona, California, Florida, Georgia and Louisiana have joined in the suit. It was reported here that patenting of the process would force citrus fruit growers to pay a heavy royalty for the privilege of using the process.

Bobbitt said he also planned to confer with Secretary of War Pat Hurley concerning toll bridges across the Red river between Texas and Oklahoma with the view of opening free bridges as early as possible.

DR. ECKENER GIVES GRAPHIC PICTURE OF DIRIGIBLE'S CRASH

LONDON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Dr. Hugo Eckener, who probably knows as much about dirigibles as anybody else in the world, drew a graphic picture of the British R-101 today.

It was technical testimony, but from it emerged the ominous hiss of gas escaping from the big ship's bag. It seeped out through holes in the forward bags, slipped astern and came out through the tail. The ship's nose, deprived of buoyancy, sank.

The men in the control tower ordered ballast overboard. They stopped the engines. Loss of motive power sent the ship into another dive. This was the "second dive" described by some of the survivors. The dirigible crashed into the French hillside, an electrical circuit was broken, a spark set fire to something and the ship became a funeral pyre for her crew and passengers.

This was the story which the investigatin board heard from the German master of the Graf Zeppelin, sitting calmly in the witness chair, peering through his horn-rimmed spectacles.

As the ship struggled to right herself in the air, Eckener said, the little rips which started the trouble became great rents from which the gas poured.

Sir John Simon, chairman of the board of inquiry denied reports that there was a woman aboard at the time of the catastrophe or that there were large quantities of intoxicating liquors on the ship and that its crew was not sober.

He said the woman mentioned "had now reached Rome on a flight she was undertaking."

The reference apparently was to Miss Winifred Spooner, British woman aviator whose plane made a forced landing in the Tyrrhenian sea last night.

Sir John, referring to reports current after the disaster, which

SOUTH FIFTEENTH STREET HIGHWAY IS OPENED TO TRAFFIC

J. W. Nichols, maintenance foreman of the state highway department, announced Thursday afternoon that the South Fifteenth street extension pavement would be opened for traffic late Thursday afternoon.

Motorists were warned however, to remain on the pavement proper and not get on the shoulders of the road as the tacks placed on a section of the pavement had been swept to one side, and would be picked up if the tires were placed off the pavement.

The South Fifteenth extension extends from the intersection of South Fifteenth street and West Thirteenth avenue, southward to a point beyond the Magnolia refinery, and thence in a southeasterly direction to national highway 75.

With the opening of this extension, the dangerous and narrow detour for south and west traffic via the Boulevard will be eliminated, as the traffic south and west will use the extension to a point near the brickyards where the present route of highway 31 turns in a westerly direction, and will travel on the old route which was in use before the South Fifteenth route was closed.

The tacks mentioned were placed on the newest section of the extension when motorists refused to stay off the green pavement, and had removed barriers placed there by the engineers and contractors in charge.

Clay Nash, county judge, said that the South Fifteenth street road had been opened for light traffic only and that the operators of big trucks were urged to remain off the road for a few days.

Judge Nash also announced Thursday afternoon that the Three-Way filling station pavement on highway 22 from where the old road intersects the pavement had been opened the remainder of the distance to the Three-Way filling station.

PROTEST AGAINST RELEASE VETERANS LEAVENWORTH HOME

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Brigadier Frank T. Hines, veterans administrator, today ordered an investigation of protests that veterans were being released from the soldiers home at Leavenworth, Kansas.

Some veterans telegraphed that many of 285 who will be released by Monday lack funds and transportation. A report from Colonel C. I. Martin, governor of the home, was requested.

General Hines said there had been no order for releasing veterans with minor disabilities. He explained that the policy at the home was to release those considered cured or with insufficient disabilities to warrant their remaining.

TOPEKA, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Ernest A. Ryan, adjutant of the Kansas department of the Amreican legion, to intercede in behalf of the inmates who are being discharged from the National Military Home at Leavenworth.

Adjutant Ryan informed the national commander that an acute situation had arisen since the order of Brig. Gen. Franklin T. Hines, veterans' administrator, directing discharge of 285 men on the ground they did not have sufficient disability to warrant their staying in the home.

The adjutant said the men were being discharged without transportation to their former homes "and necessarily thrown upon charities of Leavenworth community." He suggested the commander urge Director Hines either remand the order or to see that transportation to their homes is furnished the veterans.

The first group of 50 men was discharged from the home yesterday.

GROUNDWORK LAID FOR ORGANIZATION OF COUNTY FAIR

NAVARRO COUNTY POULTRY ASSOCIATION TAKES LEAD IN IMPORTANT MATTER

Preliminary plans for the organization of a Navarro County Fair Association were initiated Tuesday night at a meeting of directors of the Navarro County Poultry Association held in the chamber of commerce building with a number of the directors and representatives from several committees present.

Jack Megarity, president of the association, called the meeting to order and H. B. Bomar, secretary-treasurer, read the minutes of the last regular session.

The president then recalled the efforts of various leaders to initiate a county fair movement several years ago with the formation of a Purebred Livestock Association, and recalled that for two years a large community fair was held in Corsicana that gave promise of becoming a county project, until the plant was wrecked by a rainstorm on the second day of the show.

He asserted that the purpose of the meeting Tuesday night was to devise ways, means, and plans for putting on a county fair in Navarro county to fulfill a long-felt need.

Jelks Castellaw, secretary-manager of the Ellis County Fair Association, was presented as the principal speaker of the evening. He outlined the difficulties which the Ellis county exhibit encountered in several years of haphazard organization in which the fair was moved from first one available location to another. Finally, a committee was named to study the acreage and financial needs of the fair, and after that group had reported, bids were entertained from various towns in Ellis county with the result that Ennis secured the fair plant.

In eight years' time, the Ellis county organization has built a $55,000 plant, the majority of which has been paid for, and 1930 was the first time in the past eight years that the fair has not made money, running only a small deficit this season.

He declared that Corsicana should have had a fair many years ago and that the absence of such an oragnization in Navarro county has long been an object of wonder to surrounding communities.

He urged that any county fair adhere strictly to poultry, livestock and agricultural divisions, and put all possible stress on these departments as community and county builders. All kinds of livestock organizations have been formed in Ellis county, he said, and many shows were held during the year but all of them are auxiliaries to the annual fair.

Success in Co-operation.

Co-operation has spelled the success of the Ellis county fair, according to Mr. Castellaw, and all of its directors are selected from all parts of the county, and its financing has been done by the county as a whole and not by one town or one group of men. The fair, he asserted, is not an adjunct to business for the community in which it is located, but is an aid and inspiration to farmers of the county and surrounding areas, and will result in permanent improvement of year-round business conditions. He declared that an active county fair was the outstanding factor in securing the adoption of a genuine diversification program.

J. P. Freeman of Emhouse, resident of Navarro county, but also a director of the Ellis county fair and superintendent of the swine division, declared that the county fair had done more for Ellis county than anything else ever held in the county.

T. A. George of Blooming Grove, active official in the Blooming Grove Fair Association, declared that their community fair was based on the Ellis county model, and traced its growth from a small start to the latest show which found the association out of debt and with a plant valued at approximately $5,000. He said that the fair was held each year because it was one of the most important educational factors in raising the standards of farming and living in a rural community.

Fair Brings Improvement.

Steady improvement has been noted in the Blooming Grove community in poultry and livestock, both in numbers and in quality since the fair was started. Donations for the premium list is the easiest money to secure of any of the calls made each year, he declared.

"Let's make it a real county fair. Blooming Grove is ready to help Corsicana all that it possibly can in making a success of the project in any way possible," Mr. George concluded, declaring that it would aid the Blooming Grove Fair because it would give the exhibitors there an additional and more competitive show.

Mr. Van Pool of the Trinity Valley Farms, stated that while the McFarlin project was interested primarily in quantity production for the market, they were interested in general improvement of the quality of livestock and would assist in every way possible.

R. Q. Seely of Wortham, said that while his community was just beyond the borders of Navarro county, that it was anxious to cooperate with and assist in the establishing of a real county fair in Navarro county.

Dawson and Frost to Aid.

V. T. Matthews of Dawson declared that Dawson was anxious to have a community fair of their own, but that he would pledge the assistance of his community in a county-wide project.

Ed Moore of Frost said that his community would be willing to aid in the establishment of a county fair, and felt that there was a need for such an organization. He recalled that Frost had held two community fairs before their fair building was wrecked by the tornado last May, and indicated that there was a possibility that the structure would be rebuilt.

A. P. Mays, former county judge, asserted the Corsicana and Navarro county needs and has needed for several years a live county fair. In answer to the question, "Is this the proper time?" he declared that right now the necessity of a better program of diversification was so evident that one phase would offset the other and he suggested that the program might well be carried out now. He declared such a fair would sponsor live at home possibilities, and would greatly stimulate interest in better poultry and livestock. He reported that his own interest in livestock was initiated by seeing a purebred animal at the Blooming Grove fair, and created a desire to own a similar animal. He suggested that the necessary organization steps and plans be reduced to writing and that such committees as would be needed be named and work started.

Fairs Inspirational.

D. C. Ring, manager of the Arcady farm, asserted that he had been studying fairs from the standpoint of the good that might be derived from one, and had come to the belief that it was the greatest single factor in inspiring the folk at home to do something to improve their own conditions. A few scattered well-bred animals will not improve a county's livestock, but mass production of better quality can best be sponsored through a county fair.

Charles Dillingham of Blooming Grove asserted that he could easily see the need of a county fair, and that he was willing to aid in every way possible. Mr. Burson of the State Home pledged the assistance of that community in every way possible.

County Agent Calvin Pigg asserted that there was a great need for a centrally located fair in Navarro county that would inspire the organization of more community fairs, and establish a spirit of friendly rivalry.

First Step Taken.

Mr. Megarity declared that he believed that the business men of Corsicana would enthusiastically support such a movement. By unanimous consent, the association president was authorized to confer with Mr. Castellaw and draw up the necessary plans, and name the needed committees and after they had time to function, to report back to the general group representing all communities for further organization, and enlisting the support of the business men.

Taking the floor again, Mr. Castellaw declared that a fair was the greatest possible creator of wealth in a county, but that it would take hard work every day in the year to make the proposition a success. He declared that there was no city in Texas where there was so much public spirit evidenced on every occasionas in Corsicana, and if the proposal were properly presented, he believed that it would be a success. He urged that work be started at once.

At the close of the meeting, County Agent Pigg invited the men present to attend a pasture tour at the J. T. Stroder farm about eight miles south of Frost Thursday afternoon at 1:30. The Stroder pasture recently placed eighth in a class of 266 in a better pastures contest.

About 25 men, representing practically all parts of Navarro county were in attendance Tuesday night.

WHITE MAN CAUGHT IN ACT RANSACKING ROUNDHOUSE OFFICE

A white man was in the city jail Wednesday on a theft charge as a result of being surprised in the act of going through clothing of Cotton Belt employees hanging in the office of the roundhouse foreman in the Corsicana yards.

He was surprised by J. M. Heard as he was going through a suit belonging to Sam Taylor, after having rifled a pair of trousers belonging to Mr. Heard, and obtaining $2.78. He had on a sweater belonging to Mr. Heard. A number of pencils taken from a desk drawer were recovered and a filing case was found near the intruder's car where it had been broken open and abandoned.

Mr. Heard held the man until Officer Blair arrived, and he was placed in the city jail. Chief of Detectives Bruce Nutt said Wednesday that the man was a parolled convict, having been sent up from Dallas county for burglary.

CENTURY PETROLEUM COMPANY IS FACING SHUTDOWN, CLAIMED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Unless proration in Oklahoma is lifted, the Century Petroleum Corporation, with refineries at Tulsa and Oklahoma City and production in the field here, will be forced to shut down, R. S. Randerson, its president, testified today before the state corporation commission.

The Century, Marco Oil Company and Julian Oil & Royalties Company renewed their efforts to set aside the proration order.

Randerson told the commission that had it not been for proration he recently could have contracted for sale of 25,000,000 barrels of oil to responsible companies. Despite proration, he had contracted to sell 1,000,000 barrels, he said.

"Expenditures of the company now amount to about $1,000 daily," Randerson said. "Until recently the company's income under partial proration was $200 a day. Now we have no income at all."

Two wells are being drilled by the Century Company here. If proration continues, the only way they can be paid for will be through sale of assets, Randerson added.

MORE OPPOSITION AGAINST PROPOSED PRO REFERENDUM

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Still more opposition was recorded today against the proposal for a dry-supported national referendum on the eighteenth amendment.

Expressions against the idea came up from Ernest H. Cherrington, secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, who contended if such a poll were held all nineteen amendments should be passed upon the people. The prohibition amendment, he predicted, would survive the test, but not some of the others.

Cherrington's statement was issued on the eve of the get-together projected by the house wet bloc, which today planned to solidify its program for continuing warfare on the prohibition laws.

It came simultaneously with a radio address by Representative Lea, democrat, California, which set out that prohibition had been no solution on the liquor problem, and that the world would have such a problem for a thousand years to come.

The suggestion for extending prohibition support to the referendum idea was broached at a recent secret meeting in Washington of several dry leaders. Immediate expressions of disapproval came from the heads of some organizations which have fought against liquor, while others were disposed favorably, if their opponents would abide by the result and quite campaigning for a number of years, at least.

The anti-prohibition meeting of the house members today was called by Representative Linthicum, democrat, Maryland, chairman of the unofficial group, who wished to lay plans for using to better advantage the increased forces expected in the next congress.

Mobbed and Martyred, One Young Man Became a Power

Most Famous Layman of Early Church, Stephen, An Inspiration to Red-Blooded Religion—Why the Bad Hate the Good

Men bestow offices and titles and decorations upon those they deem great; and Life laughs at them as she lifts into real greatness the untitled, the unlettered the unofficial and the disregarded. God himself seems to smile at the choices of conclaves and councils. The Mother Church in Jerusalem solemnly set aside, as a subordinate official, as a sort of second rater, as a mere business man, fit only to do work that was beneath the dignity and powers of the apostles, a certain disciple named Stephen—who straitway proved himself more of a man than three-fourths of the apostles themselves! As a preacher, a controversialist, executive, saint, hero, and martyr, this lovely deacon takes a front-rank place in the long history of the Christian church.

This man, Stephen, who for symmetry of character and work challenges admiration and emulation, may be designated as a "full man"—he was "full of faith and of the Holy Spirit;" "full of grace and knowledge of the Bible; full of magnanimity; full of a sense of his mission; full of real godliness. With all of his piety, he was what we nowadays call "a man's man!"

A Straight Man Amidst Crooks

In the rapid growth of the new Christian Church, was a powerful factor. He healed, he helped, he taught, he succored. Nevertheless, he was hated. What a blow to the jejune philosophy of sweetness and light! From all quarters, opposition ringed this saintly man about. Stephen's words and deeds were publicly challenged. But he had grit as well as grace; brains as well as benevolence, and in the public debates he confounded all his adversaries. So they followed the old, old, fashion, which the newest bully of the play ground practices as she cries, "Well I can lick you, anyway!" When these enemies of goodness and truth could not prevail in fair debates, they resorted to falsehood and force. That is the way "practical politicians" still do; they defame the character of even the most honorable opponent; so that many good men fear to enter politics vigorously.

It would be a poor, slack, spineless creature who would turn his back on righteousness for fear of consequences to himself. The pursuit of the will of God is so sublime a duty that the incidental possibility of enduring hardship or even death is not to be so much as thought of by a stalwart soul. It was not until he had been made a prisoner and a martyr that Stephen became an immortal figure in history; and a heartener of brave men and women throughout the ages.

The Shining Face

Superstitious men sometimes carry a rabbit's foot for luck; many women carry a rabbits foot to powder their noses. The shining face is not in vogue in the western world! although the East of the Bible and of today, anoints itself with oil and prizes the shining skin. It may seem cynical to declare that even the type of shining face which Stephen wore when his foes haled him before the judges—the outward shining of an inner light — is not fashionable nowadays. It is more popular to look sophisticated and worldy-wise and "hard" than it is to seem sweet and gentle and holy.

It is the heart that engraves character upon the features; only a good man, free from self-consciousness and full of love, can acquire the benignity that every Christian owes the world. Stephen's face shone like an angels at the very moment when a baser man's would have been painted with terror. In a crisis, one's true character unconsciously reveals itself; Stephen like Moses, "wist not that his face shown." If he had known the fact, he would have been a prig and a pharisee; indeed his looks would have lost their light.

Standing Up For the Truth.

So Stephen had to stand up, before the very same judges who had a short time ago tried his Master. How the disciple's heart must have thrilled at the priv- defense was so masterful?

This testimony of Stephen ilege! Is it any wonder that his probes us with the query as to how good a defense of our faith we could make, on an instant's notice, if called upon to do so. Is it not true that in common conversation and in public discussion the case of Christianity and of all the good causes, such as missions and temperance and prohibition, which are its fruits, are often allowed to go by default simply because Christians lack skill and courage in witness-bear-

"Truth is the highest thing a man can keep," runs the old saying. To testify to the truth, and especially to the truth of the moral nature of God and of religion, in our own slack day, is a mission that is in true succession to that of Stephen. Observe the lack of vagueness in his address. He recounted Scripture, correctly, logically, forcefully; and showed that all the dealings of mankind with God have been directed toward the fullness of revelation in his son, Christ Jesus. Only a man saturated with the Bible could deliver such an address.

Fury and Gnashing Teeth.

Consequences followed the straight and Bible-burdened talk of Stephen. He did not leave his message up in the air. Directly into the teeth of the blind and bigoted persecutors whose prisoner he was he hurled the truth that they were disloyal Jews, true heirs of faithless fathers, and themselves betrayers and murderers. Listen to the sizzling scorn, the lash and the bite of these words with which Stephen ended his speech:

"O stiff-necked men, uncircumcised in heart and ears, you are also continually at strife with the Holy Spirit—just as your forefathers were. Which of the Prophets did not your forefathers persecute? Yes, they killed those who announced beforehand the advent of the righteous One, whose betrayers and murderers you have now become—you who received the Law given through angels, and yet have not obeyed it."

Then followed the riot. The English version scarcely gives the force of the description that follows. Yelling, frothing, sputtering, gnashing their teeth, crying out implications, holding their ears, the crowd piled upon Stephen and dragged him over the pavements with kicks and blows, out of the temple enclosure and beyond the city wall, where they could give full expression to their fury. They were too pious to violate the sanctities of the temple, but not too pious to do foul and bloody murder! As soon as they got their victim outside of the gate they began stoning him. Grave rabbis, dignified business men, lawyers and officials, joined with the rabble in hurling stones at this first martyr of the Christian faith.

Death by stoning is a horrible thing to contemplate. Three words the doomed man spoke. First, before they left the temple area he looked with rapt face into heaven itself, and cried, ecstatically, "I can see heaven wide open, and the Son of Man standing at God's right hand!" Even in heaven Jesus could not sit on His kingly throne while His servant was in such trial; but He needs must stand and look, with strength-giving compassion and sympathy. He understood; for the Master himself had undergone what his servant was now enduring.

Fallen on his face, bleeding from a score of cruel wounds, with his clothing torn and dirty and almost at the last gasp, Stephen cried, "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit." Then, with a final struggle, amidst the death-storm of hate-hurled missles, he struggled to his knees, and, like his Lord upon the cross, he cried, "Lord, do not reckon this sin against them!" Ah, that was love, and the vindication of Christ's power! Well could the narrative close, "With these words he fell asleep."

Siring Spiritual Sons.

That was not the end. Force may kill a man, but never be a cause. Despite clear teaching of the centuries, stupid satesmen are still trying to repress the manifestations of new life in the world by mere killings. They acclaim the airplane, the armored car, the machine gun and even poison gas as new and efficacious methods of dealing with native "risings;" whereas the use of these very agencies since the war has done more to embitter the East against the West than any other cause. Martyrs always have a whole brood of children and heirs. No quotation is commoner, or truer, than that "the blood of the martyrs is the seed of the church." Out of Stephen's martyrdom arose the great persecution that scattered the Gospel everywhere over the ancient world.

One spiritual son Stephen sired on this occasion. A young man named Saul of Tarsus, a scholar and an aristocrat, too haughty to join the mob's mad work of stone throwing, guarded the outer garments of the most zealous of the murderers. He saw the ordeal; he heard the words of Stephen. That whole scene was forever graven upon his sensitive mind. Without it he doubtless never would have become a Christian or the chief of Christ's servants on earth. By dying, Stephen bequeathed a Saul to the church. It is possible for a true servant of Christ to become the spiritual progenitor of greater Christians than himself. Of course it was worth any man's dying to accomplish such results as Stephen effected.

NO LEFT TURNS ON BEATON STREET IS COMMISSION ORDER

CITY COMMISSION GOES ON RECORD AS FAVORING PAVING PROJECTS

Action of the Corsicana city commission in passing for its first reading an ordinance repealing an ordinance prohibiting left hand turns on Beaton street was rescinded at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the commission Tuesday afternoon and the police department instructed to rigidly enforce the statutes in the future.

The city attorney was also instructed to prepare a resolution accepting and approving the engineer's plans, rolls and specifications and ordering the city secretary to advertise for bids, on North Fifteenth and sundry other streets.

Mayor R. L. Wheelock presided at the session with Commissioners W. P. Brown, G. L. Tatum and R. D. Fleming in attendance. Other city officials included City Secretary J. P. Welch, City Sanitary Engineer G. M. Crook, Judge H. S. Melear, Water Superintendent C. B. Lewis, City Tax Assessor and Collector W. F. Seale, Assistant Water Superintendent John Wilson, City Attorney Wayne R. Howell, Assistant City Engineer W. V. Mowlam and Chief of Police Will S. Knight.

After the roll-call, minutes of the last regular session were read and approved. A Mrs. Walker appeared before the commission asking for a permit to work a scheme for painting house numbers on the curbs in front of the homes, the work to be done through various churches in the city with the local organizations participating in the proceeds. After some discussion the permit was granted, the work to be done under the supervision of the city engineer.

The commissioners reported affairs in their various departments progressing in a satisfactory way.

Permission was granted to the Business and Professional Women's Club to hold their meeting in the city hall.

No Left Turns

A resolution rescinding the former action in passing for its first reading an ordinance repealing an ordinance prohibiting left hand turns on Beaton street, was passed supported by Commissioners Fleming and Brown and Mayor Wheelock, with Commissioner Tatum voting against the repeal, as he remarked, "the commission has vacillated again, Mr. Reporter."

The building and grounds committee was authorized to make some repairs on the old No. 2 fire station.
